Seek Indo-Pak Answers

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and other nations are considering asking the U.N. General Assembly to intercede in the India-Pakistan war following two Soviet vetoes of Security Council resolutions calling for a cease-fire and withdrawal of the opposing forces.

The 106th and 107th vetoes cast by the Russians in U.N. history came in weekend meetings at which Chinese Ambassador Huang Hua charged Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik with filibustering to give India time to advance into Pakistan and Malik called Huang "an imperialist jester."

The council scheduled another meeting this afternoon to take up another resolution calling for a cease-fire but no withdrawal. But as of Sunday night, the U.S. government had instructed Ambassador George Bush not to vote for anything that omitted the call for withdrawal of forces.

The assembly's 1965 "Uniting for Peace" resolution provides for an emergency session on the vote of any nine of the 15 council members whenever a veto prevents the council's acting in the interest of peace.

Somali Ambassador Abdulrahim Abby Farah said African, Asian and Latin American members of the council were considering this course in the belief that a big majority in the assembly would vote for a cease-fire and withdrawal.

Bush, asked whether he would go to the assembly with the issue, replied, "I would say it's a live option."

"We're keeping all our options open."

Bush had just come from the council meeting at which a Soviet veto killed an eight-nation resolution calling on India and Pakistan for an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal and also calling for an early political solution in East Pakistan.

The vote was the same as on a U.S. cease-fire-and-withdrawal motion early Sunday: 11 for, the Soviet Union and Poland opposed and Britain and France abstaining. Both resolutions failed because the Soviet vote constituted a veto.

Between those two votes, the council rejected a Soviet resolution in effect putting the blame for the situation on Pakistan. It called for "a political settlement in East Pakistan which would inevitably result in a cessation of hostilities" and demanded that Pakistani forces in East Pakistan "cease all acts of violence," meaning that they stop all action against the Bengali rebels.

The vote on that one was the Soviet Union and Poland in favor, China opposed and the other 12 council members abstaining.

China withdrew another resolution terming India the aggressor and calling for a cease-fire and withdrawal.

Explaining why he had voted against the Soviet resolution, the Chinese delegate said it constituted "direct interference in the internal affairs of a member state."

"The present armed aggression by India against Pakistan," he declared, "is carried out under the connivance, support and shielding of the Soviet Union."

He charged that the recent Soviet-Indian treaty of friendship and cooperation was actually a military alliance encouraging Indian subversion of Pakistan and that the Soviet Union had signed it to make India dependent and thus spread Soviet influence through the subcontinent to the Indian Ocean.

Huang said the Soviet Union had followed the same course in the Middle East—and "everyone will recall the Soviet aggression against Czechoslovakia in 1968."

Malik accused Huang of "spewing his customary slander against the Soviet Union." He accused the Chinese Communists of "social treachery," and Huang in reply spoke of "Soviet traitors."

The Soviet ambassador, calling Huang an "imperialist jester," said:

"The Chinese delegate has put on an excellent show for those who are happy with the disintegration of the relations between China and the Soviet Union."

Call Emergency In South Korea

SEOUL (AP) — The South Korean government proclaimed a state of emergency today, charging war preparations by North Korea.

President Chung Hee Park declared South Korea must "reposture" its defense arrangements in view of Communist China's admission to the United Nations and uncertainty over the level of future American support.

A government proclamation informed South Koreans their constitutional freedoms may be restricted and "social unrest that risks the national security will not be tolerated."

The major opposition party, the New Democrats, took issue with Park. A party spokesman said the president's aim appeared to be the security of his government rather than the security of the nation. If the situation was serious enough to warrant emergency measures, the spokesman added, it should have been discussed in the National Assembly.

Park said North Korea has increased infiltration of armed agents to South Korea and has carried out a massive military buildup of more than 2.5 million troops, including a regular military force of 500,000 men, a militia of 1.4 million and 700,000 Red youth guards.

He noted that Communist China as a U.N. member is supporting North Korea's demands for dissolution of the United Nations Command in Korea and the U.N. Commission for the Unification and Rehabilitation of Korea.

"We must foresee thorny trails that might come in the path of our national security," he said.

As for South Korea's major ally, Park said: "The United States is running into a difficult position to allow us to depend on or ask for the same level of support for our national security as before."

The balking by the American Congress over the foreign aid bill is a warning to countries receiving aid to assume more responsibility for their national security requirements, the president said.

To High Court

Approval Certain For Lewis Powell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lewis F. Powell Jr. is sure to get Senate approval today, perhaps by unanimous vote, to succeed the late Hugo L. Black on the Supreme Court.

The real controversy, over the nomination of Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist to the court, lies ahead.

Republican Leader Hugh Scott said the Senate will confirm him, too, and forecast an overwhelming vote.

But timing of that vote is another question, since opponents of Rehnquist have not agreed to any limit on their debate against him.

The Powell confirmation vote was set for 4 p.m. "I don't think a single senator is likely to vote against Powell," said Scott.

Indeed, Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., who will miss the roll call, set out to find an opponent in hopes of arranging a pair. That is an arrangement under which opposing senators agree that both will skip a vote, and the absentees cancel each other. Percy said he couldn't find anybody to provide the other half of the pair.

The Senate agreed to spend two days discussing the Powell nomination, but it was a debate without an opposing side.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., a leader of the opposition to Rehnquist, praised Powell as a man of integrity, ability and commitment to human rights.

"This man meets the standards we in the Senate are duty bound to apply to any nominee . . . Bayh said. "The second nominee, William Rehnquist, does not."

Senate Democratic Whip Robert C. Byrd said he hopes for a vote on the Rehnquist nomination sometime this week. Bayh has been unwilling to agree to any timetable that would limit the debate.

And the vote on Powell, 64, of Richmond, Va., could leave opponents of Rehnquist, 47, free to take their time and stretch the debate on the second nomination, to fill the court vacancy left by the retirement of Justice John M. Harlan.

That would be unlikely unless Bayh and his allies saw evidence they were gaining votes for the opposition. Otherwise, lengthy resistance would be pointless, particularly in a Senate anxious to adjourn for the year.

Meanwhile, the American Civil Liberties Union announced Sunday it will depart from a traditional policy of not opposing nominees for public office and will campaign against Rehnquist.

Expect Routine Council Meeting

Routine business will be on the agenda at the Monday meeting of City Council at 7:30 o'clock tonight at city hall.

The report from the office of industrial development for November will be presented.

Equipment replacement will take up much of the time, with bids being opened on a pick-up truck and a street sweeper for the street department and a dump truck for the sewer department, according to City Clerk Ralph Dedrick. Bids will also be opened on leather equipment for the police department.

The council will also consider a request by Hobson and Son Carpet Center, 2805 West Broadway, for a loading zone in the 100 block of South Osage.

Ten coupons from the parking system account, in the amount of $200, will be destroyed, according to Dedrick.

reported last week in his inspection of Sedalia public schools were already beginning to be corrected. Brown said work on improving guttering within the food service area at Mark Twain School and the removal of cracked dishes and trays had already been started. He indicated that major repair and remodeling work necessary at the schools will not be demanded right away.

Brown said his office was looking more for correction of existing conditions than anything else. Another inspection of the public schools is scheduled in 30 to 60 days, he said.

Fighters Hit Bombay

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pakistani jet fighters attacked the Indian city of Bombay in a raid that lasted less than half an hour, United News of India reported today.

It said civil defense officials were unable to give any immediate assessment of damage, if any.

The agency added in a dispatch from Bombay, India's most populous city with 5.6 million people, that the raid began at 7:30 p.m. with the enemy jets coming in from the Arabian Sea. Coastal batteries and anti-aircraft guns opened fire for 15 minutes and an all clear was sounded at 8 p.m., the dispatch said.

Bombay is on India's west coast about 500 miles south of West Pakistan.

Air raid warnings sounded all over western India after sundown as Indian radar picked up sightings of aircraft, New Delhi dispatches said.

Earlier in the day, India recognized the Bangla Desh rebels as the legal government of East Pakistan and claimed victory in a major tank battle on West Pakistan's border.

In Washington, White House deputy press Secretary Gerald L. Warren had no direct comment on India's recognition of the Bangla Desh. Warren said Nixon met today with Henry Kissinger, his assistant for National Security Affairs, and talked by telephone with Secretary of State William P. Rogers. Warren described Nixon as concerned over the fighting and said, "He is keeping abreast of the situation" before.

In another development, Pakistan broke diplomatic relations with India in retaliation to its recognition of Bangla Desh.

A spokesman for India's Foreign Ministry in New Delhi said earlier the Indian government had no plans to sever diplomatic ties with Pakistan.

India has supported the Bangla Desh rebels since March and has gained backing for this stand from the Soviet Union.

There was no immediate word from Moscow on whether the Soviet Union would follow India in recognizing the rebels. Premier Alexei N. Kosygin said Sunday the question of Kremlin recognition had not been considered.

The Soviet news agency Tass carried a New Delhi dispatch reporting that India had done so and noted that Prime Minister Indira Gandhi had told her Parliament that recognition signifies an important turning point in the history of national liberation movements.

The Pakistanis claimed their forces had made a general advance in all sectors along the border between India and West Pakistan and had crossed the Tavi River in the Jammu sector of Kashmir.

Pakistan reported earlier that it had seized 20 Indian border posts in Kashmir.

The tank battle began Saturday night when the Pakistanis sent two brigades of infantry and an armored regiment against Indian defensive positions in southern Kashmir near the West Pakistani border, an Indian spokesman in New Delhi said.

He said the battle raged throughout the weekend and that 23 Chinese-built T59 tanks were destroyed by the Indian forces.

"Our losses were minor in the fighting," the spokesman added.

He said in East Pakistan Indian forces "are making significant advances and we have captured some territory northeast of Sylhet and south of Comilla." The two cities are key supply centers for Pakistan's army in the east. Sylhet is 123 miles northeast of Dacca, the provincial capital. Comilla is 50 miles southeast of Dacca.

Earlier, Indian Defense Secretary K. B. Lal reported Indian forces on the eastern border of East Pakistan had captured the key rail and communications center of Akhaura, 60 miles east of Dacca. But Pakistan said the attack on Akhaura had been repulsed and insisted its lines along East Pakistan's western borders with India remained firm. It added, however, that "the enemy is dominating" some of East Pakistan.

The head of India's military operations in East Pakistan, Maj. Gen. J. F. R. Jacob, told a news conference in Calcutta today that there had been heavy fighting around the towns of Jessore in the southwest, Hilli in the northwest, and Akhaura.

Schedule Meeting On River Basin Plan

A meeting to discuss a 1970 study report of the Blackwater-Lamine River Basin in Pettis County will be held at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 14, at the Central Missouri Electric Cooperative Building, North Highway 65.

Conducting the meeting will be Clifford L. Summers, executive director, Missouri Water Resources Board.

The meeting is based on a report of river basins in Johnson, Lafayette, Pettis and Saline Counties. The study was carried out by the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, the U.S. Forest Service, the U.S. Economic Research Service and the Missouri Water Resources Board.

The purpose of the study was to investigate the proper development and management of available land and water resources.

Frank Schwarzer, executive director of the Show-Me Regional Planning Commission, Warrensburg, in a letter to the Pettis County Court, invited county officials to attend the meeting to provide comments and guidance in connection with the study's findings.

Schwarzer indicated in the letter that the study will show the potential for alleviating flooding and water management problems; sound development of the basin's land resources for agriculture, forestry, fish and wildlife, industrial and urban uses; potential for additional recreational development; and the development of water supplies for domestic, agricultural, industrial, and water quality purposes.

County officials were uncertain Monday about attending the meeting.

Four Boys Escape

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP) — Four inmates at the Missouri Training School for Boys slipped away from the reformatory early today as they headed for breakfast, a spokesman at the school said.

The spokesman declined to identify the youths, but said all were 16. She said one of the boys was from Bel-Ridge, a St. Louis-area community; one from Catron, south of Sikeston; one from Springfield and one from Lincoln, about 20 miles south of Sedalia.

In Cambodia

Another Enemy Victory

PHNOM PENH (AP) — North Vietnamese troops dealt the Cambodian Army another setback today, forcing it into retreat from a district town only 16 miles northwest of Phnom Penh. At least 50 Cambodians were killed or wounded.

About 150 troops fled from Bat Doeung in the darkness before dawn after two days of fierce fighting.

About 50 of the survivors were reported to have reached safety at the nearby outpost of Phnom Baset.

Last week the Cambodian army's northeast front collapsed, sending thousands of troops and civilians fleeing north to the besieged provincial capital of Kompong Thom. The North Vietnamese were left in control of 25 miles of Highway 6.

Reports during the weekend said hundreds of the fleeing soldiers and civilians were killed during the retreat. The army abandoned three more hill positions during the weekend and withdrew the rest of its surviving force in the sector into Kompong Thom.

In Saigon, it was learned that U.S. Navy planes have nearly doubled attacks against the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos since the dry season began. The aim of the air campaign is to reduce the movement of North Vietnamese reinforcements and war materials into Cambodia and South Vietnam.

The Pacific Fleet's two most powerful carriers, the nuclear-powered Enterprise and the Constellation, are sending more than 100 planes a day against the supply trail. Military sources anticipate an increase in North Vietnamese attacks on the aerial raiders, and more U.S. attacks on North Vietnam in retaliation.

Two such encounters were reported over the weekend. On Saturday surface-to-air missile sites inside North Vietnam fired on U.S. jets operating over Laos for the first time in nearly a month but missed their targets. The American fliers did not return the fire.

On Friday U.S. fighter-bombers escorted B52s on raids near the Mu Gia and Ban Hving passes attacked three anti-aircraft radar sites on the North Vietnamese side of the border with unknown results.

Secretary of the Air Force Robert C. Seamans, on a visit to Vietnam, told newsmen that North Vietnam has increased its anti-aircraft defenses along the border with Laos.

Seamans said the effectiveness of the U.S. bombing campaign against the Ho Chi Minh trail is illustrated by the absence "of any major sustained military operations since we have really built up our capability to do a pretty darn sophisticated job on the trails in the last couple of years." He ignored the current North Vietnamese campaign in Cambodia, which is costing the Phnom Penh government heavily.

Informed sources in Vientiane, the Laotian capital, reported today that two North Vietnamese battalions captured the south Laotian town of Saravane.

Two Laotian battalions abandoned the town after a five-hour battle, the sources said.

Initiate Inspection In Parochial Schools

At the request of the State Division of Health, inspection of food service facilities at parochial schools within the city, began Monday, according to William R. Brown, city license and restaurant inspector.

Brown said he would be inspecting Sacred Heart School, St. Paul's Lutheran School and the food-preparation facilities of Calvary Baptist Church, which caters to kindergarten children.

Brown said the Sacred Heart and St. Paul's schools had not been inspected since 1966, according to his records. State law provides for inspections of schools twice each year.

Brown also announced that deficiencies reported last week in his inspection of Sedalia public schools were already beginning to be corrected. Brown said work on improving guttering within the food service area at Mark Twain School and the removal of cracked dishes and trays had already been started. He indicated that major repair and remodeling work necessary at the schools will not be demanded right away.

Brown said his office was looking more for correction of existing conditions than anything else. Another inspection of the public schools is scheduled in 30 to 60 days, he said.

Disappoint Parents At Wedding Party

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I are sitting here looking at each other, asking one another if we should have handled the situation differently. Neither of us has an answer. Have you one?

Our daughter wanted a big wedding. We have a large house and agreed to it with the understanding that no liquor would be served since we do not permit alcohol in our home. She tried to persuade us that champagne isn't alcohol and that no wedding is complete without it, but we stood firm.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party, instead of standing in a line to accept congratulations, sat themselves down and proceeded to open bottles of champagne which the groom's parents had brought. I was shocked. So was my husband. Several of our friends were also astonished since our views are well known.

Neither my husband nor I had the courage to say anything for fear our daughter and her in-laws might walk out in a huff. They ignored everybody, including us. When the guests began to leave they didn't even get up to say goodbye.

Was there something we could have done? If so, what? Please tell us since our younger girl will be getting married next year and she could easily do the same thing. — Salt Lake Parents

Dear S.L.P.: Your daughter and her in-laws behaved in an outrageous manner but I doubt that you could have done anything short of creating a scene. Make it clear to your younger daughter that champagne IS alcohol, that there will be none at her wedding, and make sure she agrees.

Dear Ann Landers: May I comment please, on the letter from the woman who observed that frequently, after a couple adopts a baby, the woman becomes pregnant. She said it is downright shattering, the foolish things people say to a couple who has adopted and then finds out they will have a natural child. Her examples were eye-openers.

I was reminded of a lovely statement attributed to the late Daniel A. Poling of the Christian Herald magazine. He said with a twinkle, "Two of our four children are adopted. I forgot which ones they are." — Ohio Mother

Dear O.: That lovely line reflects the sentiments of millions of adoptive parents. Thanks for passing it along.

Dear Ann Landers: For as far back as I can remember I've never been able to get my parents to give me a straight answer. When I ask Mom if I can go somewhere she says, "Talk to your father." Then when I ask him he says, "It's up to your mother." I go back to her and she says, "We'll see."

Three days ago I asked for permission to go to a football game 40 miles from here. My folks couldn't decide and now

Congress Weighs Food Bank Start

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, with an eye on the political scale, is weighing whether to create a national food bank stocked with about $1.5 billion worth of vital grains at an average annual storage cost of $215 million.

The Nixon administration, taking its own approach toward easing farm problems, has joined the American Farm Bureau in opposing the Democratic-backed plan that would set up a strategic reserve supply of up to 300 million bushels of wheat and 25 million bushels of feed grains.

Agriculture specialists on Capitol Hill said they expected a close call for the measure in the House Rules Committee, which moved today toward its decision on whether to dispatch the legislation to the floor for action.

The bill, which emerged from the House Agriculture Committee on a 21-10 vote, has the backing of the Farmers Union, the National Farmers Organization, the National Grange, National Association of Wheat Growers, National Corn Growers Association and the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Maneuvering on the bill could include attempts to tack onto it a measure which cleared the Agriculture Committee last Thursday by 19 to 6. This would provide that when the government announced wheat and feed-grain programs that add to reserve stocks, the minimum loan level or rate available to producers during that crop year would be hiked by at least 25 per cent.

In addition, it is expected that Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., will try to attach a $20,000 limit on all farm-subsidy payments.

Under the base bill for a national food bank, the secretary of agriculture would buy wheat and feed grain at prices not exceeding the average price for the previous five years.

These reserve supplies could be released only when market prices for wheat and feed grains were 120 per cent above the previous five-year average price received by farmers—or to relieve economic distress, provide disaster help, assist in a civil-defense emergency, or feed livestock in an emergency.

The stocks would be rotated to prevent spoilage. The secretary of agriculture could store the supplies in producer-owned and commercial storage facilities.

Rep. Neal Smith, D-Iowa, the measure's chief sponsor, had urged new Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz to support the bill that Smith said "would make available to the department an effective tool to counteract the depressed prices." Butz instead announced a corn-purchase plan.

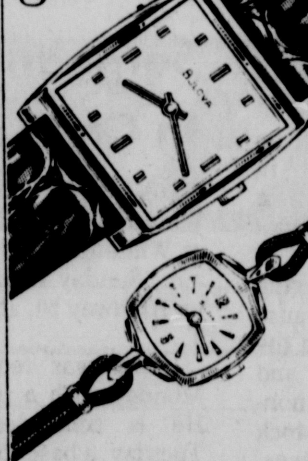

Butz said Friday the government will buy an undisclosed amount of corn on the open market in an attempt to firm up farm prices. Butz added that this would "provide reserve stocks to meet domestic requirements during periods of short supply."

GM Is Gearing For Big Recall

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp., pressed by the federal government, is gearing up for the largest automotive recall in history—the callback of nearly 6.7 million Chevrolets which may have defective engine mounts.

In a letter to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, GM said it would pay for installation of restraints to prevent mount failure. GM said Saturday that the recall would begin in late February, once Chevrolet dealers are equipped with the restraint devices.

Affected are 1965 through 1969 full-sized Chevrolets and Chevrolet Novas, plus 1967 through 1969 Camaros and some light trucks. The recall applies only to models with V8 engines.

New Hope Planning Film For Tuesday

"The Lost Generation," a film featuring special guest appearances by Billy Graham, Art Linkletter and Jack Webb, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the New Hope Baptist Church, 664 East 16th, according to Dean Catlett, pastor.

Mr. Catlett said the film deals in a documentary style with attitudes of dissent, violence, and the mood of American life, and how answers to today's problems can be found by the younger generation.

The public is invited to the free showing.

Conference Seeks Youth For Convention Delegates

CHICAGO (AP) — A conference of 3,000 college students has committed itself to working for the election of youthful delegates to the 1972 political conventions.

Duane Draper, president of the Association of Student Governments, said the action Sunday was a "reaffirmation that young people will work at electoral politics when they see a chance for success."

He and other leaders of the meeting, called the Emergency Conference for New Voters, also warned the Democratic party that predominantly liberal young persons will not automatically deliver the vote to the Democrats.

Under the new rules for the Democratic party, Draper said, 300 of the party's 3,000 convention delegates will be young persons.

"The question is whether they will be independent young people or Daley young people," he added, referring to Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, a proponent of organization politics.

Allan Lowenstein, a former New York congressman and head of Americans for Democratic Action, said most young persons will be against the re-election of President Nixon.

"But," Lowenstein said, "if the Democrats think there's an automatic delivery of votes they don't understand what this conference means."

The conference action approved the formation of a National Youth Caucus, which is intended to help students in college communities pack precinct, county and district political caucuses with young persons. If enough are placed on these caucuses, the youthful strategists reason, it will be possible to convince major party leaders they deserve representation in the state delegations.

The Youth Caucus will be most concerned with nonprimary states, where concentration of college students can be more effective.

Art Kaminsky, an aide to Lowenstein and a planner of the conference, said youths in many nonprimary states could indicate their strength at precinct and county levels, then accept an offer to be placed on a candidate's slate of delegates.

"It doesn't really matter if a kid is committed to Muskie or McGovern or whoever so long as the candidate is aware that the youth delegate will be completely independent at the convention on matters such as platform, rules and credentials," Kaminsky said.

"One really important area is selection of a vice president," Kaminsky added. "The last four vice presidents have become presidential candidates."

Miss Embree was born in Beaman on Feb. 5, 1904, daughter of the late Walter and Carrie Bake Embree.

Miss Embree sold "War Cry", the Salvation Army weekly magazine beginning in Sedalia in 1922. She retired on May 25, 1970, after nearly 40 years service to the Salvation Army. She became a familiar figure to her 200 customers each week with a smile and "God Bless You" to each and every one. She had been a resident of Sedalia all her life except 25 years when she sold the "War Cry" in Oklahoma City where she also earned the respect and love of citizens of that community.

Before returning to Sedalia in the mid-1930's, Miss Embree was recognized for her efforts across the United States and abroad, when she was lauded at dinners and entertained by top Salvation Army officials. Even on these trips she found herself serving coffee and doughnuts as a part of the Salvation Army team to aid firemen and Civil Defense workers in disaster areas.

Sedalian Elected To Office

A Sedalia farmer was elected first vice president of the Missouri Livestock Feeders Association at the group's annual meeting and convention held Friday in Marshall.

Don Callis, Route 3, was elected to the post for the coming year. Kemp Woods, a Smithville livestock feeder, was elected president. Named second vice president was W. D. Richards, Keytesville, and Raymond Stall, Alma, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

In their policy session the Missouri feeders approved several resolutions dealing with issues vital to the livestock industry.

On farm transportation, the group opposed economic regulation of livestock trucks by the state's regulatory transportation agency, as well as the Interstate Commerce Commission. The feeders seek more freedom of operation for farm trucks and more flexibility for all surface carriers in rate making to encourage more competition in transportation.

On waste management policy, a resolution was approved to work with the Missouri Legislature in drafting environmental control legislation which is "justified and reasonable" in its application to the livestock industry and the group pledged to support the University of Missouri in efforts to step up research and education dealing with controlling pollution.

With respect to marketing and price determination for livestock and feed grains, the feeders acknowledged advantages in group action selling under certain conditions, but indicated support of only voluntary membership bargaining associations. They gave high priority to retaining the highest possible degree of freedom in choice of the individual operators in production and marketing decisions.

The association urged that meats inspected under Missouri meat inspection authority, which is by law considered "equal to" federal inspection, be given "equal to" freedom of movement in interstate commerce. Adoption of a "federal-state" inspection stamp was asked.

The feeders also approved policy urging exemption of farming operations, because of their continued unique nature, from the regulations of the Occupational Safety and Health Act. They resolved that non-installment, short-term credit for livestock purchases and operating expenses, including non-installment credit sales, be exempt from coverage of the Truth in Lending Act.

Vandalism, Burglary Noted Over Weekend

Burglaries, thefts and vandalism ranging from paint being sprayed on an automobile to the theft of more than $1,000 worth of television sets plagued Sedalia police during the weekend.

Possibly the biggest theft was the TV sets — three color sets valued at $1,169.85 from the B. F. Goodrich Store, 218 South Osage.

This theft was discovered Sunday morning. Police Chief Bill Miller said the investigation revealed the thief or thieves entered the building by breaking the glass in the door on the east side of the building, then breaking another glass to enter the service department. They then pried a door open to enter the showroom, where the TV sets were displayed. The sets were apparently removed through an overhead door leading into an alley, Miller said.

The Pettis County Sheriff has been notified of the incident.

The Sedalia Veterinary Center on Green Ridge Road was broken into and some drugs, in addition to equipment, was taken. This burglary involved the theft of a bottle of Demerol and a bottle of Amphetul, a centrifuge and a microscope, for a total value of $205. The theft was discovered and reported by Dr. Robert Linsenbardt Sunday morning.

James T. Hill, Route 1, reported Sunday afternoon that someone stole a check from his check book he had left in his car sometime Saturday night.

Harold Williams, 1200 West 20th, reported Sunday afternoon that someone stole some lights from the holiday decorations in his yard sometime Sunday.

Early Monday morning police on routine patrol noticed a sign at the S&M Sporting Goods Store had been broken and tossed in back of the building.

In addition to the fire last week, Cecil's Radio & TV shop has new troubles. Police on patrol Monday morning noted that a plate glass window had been hit, apparently by pellets or bullets from some sort of gun. In addition to the glass being broken, the officers found some of the pellets had struck the brick wall.

The Rev. Charles Hendrickson, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, reported to police that two billfolds had been taken from the basement of his church during choir practice Sunday night. One billfold, containing $44, was taken from clothing belonging to Jenene Williams, Hughesville. The contents of the other billfold, taken from Debbie Johnson, Houstonia, were not revealed.

Saturday afternoon Dean Alfrey reported to police that the lights on a tractor belonging to Jack Alfrey, Route 1, had been damaged by vandals while the tractor was parked at the Swine Building on the fairgrounds.

Douglas Kennedy, 422 East Seventh, reported Sunday morning someone had sprayed paint on his car.

Monday morning Bob Eidson, an employee of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., reported someone tried unsuccessfully to break into the telephone building here. Police reported the rear door on the west side of the building was damaged by someone trying to pry the entrance open.

Sunday Sedalia police took into custody Jerry Gilbert Slavens, Kansas City, at Memorial Park Cemetery, and are holding him for investigation of breaking and entering. Police Chief Miller had no further comment on the incident, pending further investigation.

Polly's Pointers

Saving the Cookies For the Holidays

DEAR POLLY — About this time of year my mother is doing her Christmas baking and putting things away in the freezer to be ready for the holidays. Hungry kids used to eat a lot of it ahead of time, then when she wanted to serve something "the cupboard was bare." Last year mother came up with a new idea. She rinsed out one-quart milk containers and let them get perfectly dry. These were packed with cookies, the tops stapled and the contents marked on the outside. Little fingers were kept out and less freezing space was required. — N.N.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — Please tell me the best way to preserve a new mahogany front door. Also, what is meant by a chemical garden? — RUNAR

DEAR POLLY — My "pettiest" Pet Peeve, and I have many of them, upsets me to no end. It is infuriating to be driving and see a little old lady or man slowly walking along bent over with a bag of groceries and maybe having to use a cane, too, and then actually have to run or certainly hasten his or her pace to get out of the way fast enough. My fury is directed at those hateful smart alecks who have blared on their horns right behind those elderly people and scared them out of their wits so they try to run for fear of being run over. I hope each and everyone of these uncaring, unfeeling people will be reminded of this in later years when they cannot get about so quickly. Some seem to delight in frightening these older ones. I am not aged in case you are wondering. I am 40. — MORRIS

DEAR POLLY — If the hinges on my eyeglasses become "frozen" from salt air or perspiration, I put a drop of machine oil on each hinge and work it gently back and forth. This saves me costly breakage. — MRS. C.E.J.

DEAR POLLY — Bonnie will find that most supermarkets and housewares departments sell a very handy little gadget designed especially for opening cans of condensed milk. It is a stainless steel cover with two prongs. When put on the can it punches two holes and can be used for a cover if the milk is not all used at one time. They come in two sizes and fit both the regular and small tins of milk. I find mine most useful as well as sanitary. — MARY

She Danced To Live

By DAVID GOELLER
Associated Press Writer

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The Good Old Days mean different things to different people. To Betty Rector, they are sore feet but soaring spirits during weeks of waltzing and Lindy Hopping in a Depression-era dance marathon.

In those days of the early 1930s, Mrs. Rector of Glen Burnie, Md., was Betty Moore, a 96-pound wisp of a girl who danced much of the time with the dozing hulk of a partner draped over her shoulders.

"I was in the marathons because I liked to dance," said Mrs. Rector, who served as the unpaid expert consultant to University of Maryland students who staged a 52-hour marathon recently to raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America.

To Mrs. Rector, a 52-hour marathon would have been a short warm-up jog.

She danced in 20 dance contests beginning in Philadelphia in 1931 and continuing in a circuit stretching from Massachusetts to Cumberland in Western Maryland.

Her longest marathon performance was three months of "round-the-clock dancing, and she still did not win."

"I never won any of them,"

she recalled. "They always gave prizes to the last four couples, and when we got down to five or six couples left, I'd get bored and move on to another one."

"Mrs. Rector, now 58, said that marathon dancers got 10-minute breaks every hour, ate or snacked six times a day and were given massages by trainers."

"We did our sleeping on the dance floor," said Mrs. Rector, who was nicknamed the "Sugar Nymph" during her marathon days.

She said she worked for a promoter named Zeke Youngblood who paid travel and expenses for dancers on the marathon circuit. Her usual partner was Eddie Kish.

"I'd love to get in touch with some of the people I danced with," she said.

Mrs. Rector recalled her first marathon.

"The first week I couldn't sleep, and half the time I didn't know where I was. When I came to and found out where I was, I was shocked. But then the whole thing was a lot of fun."

Mrs. Rector said the hardest part of the marathons was "carrying those heavy partners around." But "I haven't danced for 35 years—ever since I got married," she said.

FOOD & FIBER NEWS

University of Missouri Extension Centers
Henry - Johnson - Lafayette - Pettis

As all of you realize, tax management is a year-round job. Investment decisions and major adjustments in farming operations throughout the year should be tempered by the impact they will have on tax liabilities.

Even so, most of us experience a growing interest in tax management as the deadline for filing income tax returns approaches. And, some actions can be taken late in the year to adjust taxable income for the current filing period — especially by those who file on the cash method.

Most of you will have access to special articles and publications on the details of income tax regulations and filing procedures. You should get a copy of the 1971 Edition of the "Farmers Tax Guide," published by the Internal Revenue Service. Pick up a copy at the Extension Center or call in.

Most income taxes, state and federal, are based upon a graduated scale of tax rates, with rates increasing in progressively higher taxable income brackets. For this reason, one opportunity in tax management is to avoid wide fluctuations in net farm income from year to year. This "leveling off" process may help one avoid the higher rates in the upper tax brackets.

Actually, the long-run goal in tax management usually is to maximize after-tax income and net worth. In the short run, one should try to maintain an annual "adjusted gross income" at least equal to his family personal exemptions and allowable non-business deductions. Some may wish to increase net farm profit, in a given year, to the maximum eligible for Social Security credit ($7,800 in 1971) even though it results in higher income tax payments.

Tax management late in the year may include actions either to increase or decrease net farm profit for the current filing period. In many cases, those actions which reduce farm profits and taxable income in the current year will result in higher profits in the coming year and vice versa.

Milk Management Meeting. A Milk Management Meeting will be held Wednesday, December 8 in Pettis County Extension Center, old Post Office Building, in Room B-7.

The program will begin at 9:45 and before noon discussion will be centered around Milking Machine Maintenance, service, exhibit, demonstration and discussion. In the afternoon prevention and control of mastitis will be discussed and following this there will be a panel discussion moderated by Laurence Pressley. Members of the panel will be Homer Nierman who will discuss milking machine service, sanitation will be discussed by Raymond Whittall, Sedalia Health Department, health problems in herds will be discussed by veterinarian C. W. Monsees and Wilfred Helt, Mid America Dairyman, will also serve on the panel.

Bull Sale. At the 12th Missouri Performance Tested Bull Sale at Columbia, Nov. 10, 170 bulls sold for an average price of $828.

The 79 Angus bulls averaged $790, six Charolais bulls averaged $1,030. 15 Horned Hereford bulls averaged $766, 63 Polled Herefords averaged $893; two Polled Shorthorn averaged $875 and three Red Angus averaged $650.

Eating Places

Over the past 10 years, gross sales at eating places — including nonfood items — zoomed upward by $12 billion, or about five per cent a year.

Much of this growth reflects the rapid expansion of franchised fastfood outlets selling hamburgers, fried chicken, pizzas, roast beef sandwiches, and so on.

During the last decade growth rates were most dramatic from 1963-69 and sales in eating places outpaced food store sales in that period. Business done by eating places grew twice as fast as the growth rate of our population.

D.H.I.

During the month of October, Lena and Chancy Houseworth supervised the testing of 751 cows in fourteen herds.

The five highest herds for the month were Longan Dairy, Larry McCollette, Cloyd Merk, Paul Neel and Richard Lenz.

Among the ten highest producing cows for the month were six from the Longan Dairy, two from the Lenz Dairy; Clyde Rehmer and Richard Birdsong each have one.

Among the cows completing a 305 day lactation that were above 550 pounds butterfat were three from Richard Lenz Dairy, three from Clyde Rehmer and Gary Infringer and Roland Oelrich each have one.

Cattle Feeding Seminar

The Cattle Feeding Seminar will be held on the Columbia Campus, Feb. 3 and 4, 1972. Topics include backgrounding of feeder cattle; RALGRO and DES implants for steers on grass; value of preconditioned feeder cattle; returns from shelter to protect beef cattle from weather and wet, muddy lots. Kenny Monfort, Greeley, Colorado, will be the banquet speaker. Detailed program information will soon be available.

Milo for Beef

Milo acreage was up in Missouri this year. Some cattle feeders are using milo for the first time. They have questions on whether it should be fed as the only grain and what changes need to be made in supplements when milo replaces corn in beef rations.

Milo is the only grain used in most rations fed to beef cattle in the milo belt. It is usually steam-flaked or high-moisture processed for these rations. The nutrient composition of milo is similar to corn. The protein, mineral, and vitamin supplementation will need little change when milo is substituted for corn in beef cattle rations. All-milo rations are successfully fed to beef cattle, but there may be some advantage to keeping 30 to 50 per cent corn in the ration.

In nine trials comparing the performance of cattle fed corn or milo, cattle fed corn averaged four per cent faster daily gains and required 13 per cent less dry matter for a pound of gain. Dry grains were used in seven comparisons. Steam-rolled and steam-flaked grains were used in the other two. It took less corn for a pound of gain in all comparisons. Corn had the highest superiority to milo in an Ohio Trial. In this

Shooting Victim Dies From Wound

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Richard Johnson, 66, died Sunday night of wounds received Halloween night when he was shot in the head while passing out candy to neighborhood youngsters.

Johnson was shot by one of three youths who came into his yard in south St. Louis yelling "trick or treat." Police have arrested three juveniles, two boys and a girl, in connection with the shooting.

When Johnson's wife was visiting him in City Hospital four days ago their home was ransacked.

test, corn improved rate of gain and feed conversion efficiency by 10 per cent and 25 per cent, respectively, in comparison to Arkansas 614 milo, a bird-resistant variety. The feeding value of milo is usually improved more than corn by processing methods like steam-flaking and high-moisture storage. Corn was still superior, however, to milo when fed as high-moisture grain in two Ohio studies. Cattle gained nine per cent faster and required 16 per cent less feed on the high-moisture corn rations. Steam-flaked milo and wheat have had similar feeding value for cattle in Arizona comparisons.

Milo should be ground relatively fine for beef cattle. Oklahoma and Kansas trials have shown fine-ground milo to be superior to coarsely-ground milo in beef rations. Fine grinding improved feed efficiency 6.3 per cent over coarse-grinding in Oklahoma studies. Milo varieties do vary greatly in digestibility and feeding value for cattle and hogs. Bird-resistant varieties contain tannin, a substance that makes them less desirable to birds. Some bird-resistant varieties have been found to be less palatable and digestible than other varieties when fed to beef cattle in certain studies.

Accepting Orders For Tree Seedlings

The Pettis County Extension Center is now accepting orders for seedling trees and shrubs to be planted next spring. These seedlings, grown by the Missouri Department of Conservation, are made available at a low production cost to persons desiring to make conservation plantings. Plantings may be made for woodlands, Christmas trees, erosion control, windbreaks, wildlife food and cover, nut production or beautification. Several bundles of mixed species designed for special purpose plantings, may be secured. These include: songbird bundle, game cover bundle, beautification bundle, and windbreak bundle.

Vic Carothers, area agronomy specialist, urged cooperation in placing orders as soon as possible because reservations for trees are made on a "first come, first served" basis. So, to be sure of getting the species you want, order now. The trees are normally delivered in the spring at the proper planting. However the purchaser has several options available to him. He may:

— Pick them up at a central delivery point in Sedalia on a date specified by the nursery, with no delivery charge made.

— Pick the trees up at the Department of Conservation's forest nursery near Licking, Mo.

— Have the trees shipped, collect. Persons planning to make large plantings should request free advice from the Farm

Forester for their area. He may be contacted through the local University of Missouri Extension Center or by writing directly to Lee Robinson, Box 147, Clinton, Mo. 64735.

During the 1971 planting season 35 Pettis County landowners placed orders for 10,050 seedling trees. The most popular species were Scotch Pine, White Pine and Black Walnut.

In addition, 19 persons secured 43 special bundles for use in songbird, game cover, beautification or windbreak plantings.

The Forestry Division of the Missouri Department of Conservation reports that last year the total distribution in the state was approximately 7 million trees and shrubs to over 7,000 persons.

Narcissus Needs Little Space

Forced bulbs during the winter are a bright reminder of the distant spring. Often, however, there is not space or proper conditions for forcing tulips, daffodils, and hyacinths that require four to six weeks of a cold temperature treatment.

One that can be forced indoors in small space with minimum care is the Paperwhite narcissus. Forcing it can be a child's project or a rewarding indoor experience for amateur or experienced gardeners.

The Paperwhite narcissus belongs to a class of daffodils known as Tazettas. These are native to the Mediterranean climate. They are quite tender.

In the United States their most widespread use is for forcing. However, they are also grown outdoors in mild climates of Florida, the Gulf Coast, and the Pacific Coast.

Since they are mild climate plants, the cold dormancy necessary for most narcissus is not required. In southern areas where they are grown outdoors, they flower about Christmas time.

In an attempt to make them more hardy, they have been crossed with hardier types. Generally, few suitable varieties have been developed. The Paperwhite narcissus has clusters of white, fragrant flowers. Its sweet fragrance can fill an entire room. Another similar variety also used for forcing has yellow flowers. Clusters are generally slightly smaller than the white type.

The variety name of the yellow-flowered form is Soleid d'or, meaning Golden Sun. It is also sometimes called the Rising Sun narcissus.

The Paperwhite narcissus will bloom in six to eight weeks after planting. Bulbs may be planted from now through January. Generally, the later they are planted the less time it takes to flowering. Flower cluster size may be reduced in very late plantings.

Plant bulbs in either soil or water. Potted plants tend to have slightly larger flower clusters and grow shorter than those forced in water. If soil is used, make sure it is porous and light.

To force bulbs in water, use a shallow bowl large enough to hold six to eight bulbs. Space bulbs uniformly in the water. Fill bowl with gravel pebbles, marbles, or some similar material to hold bulbs upright. Place enough water in the bowl so about the lower half of bulbs will be covered.

Then put the bowl in the window where the bulbs are to flower or place in a dark closet until root growth is fairly well developed.

After about two weeks, plants kept in the dark should be brought to the light. During the forcing period change water occasionally to keep it from souring.

Whether forced in pots or water, during the first few weeks bulbs should be kept at about 60 degrees. If temperatures are too high during this period, growth will be tall and weak and flowering poor. The tall growth will often need additional support.

Forcing exhausts the food stores. Therefore, discard bulbs after forcing. In our climate they will not survive the winters if planted outdoors.

Requesting Expansion Of Advisory Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. James O'Hara has asked the Agriculture Department to expand its 26-person advisory committee on safety to include farm laborers.

The Michigan Democrat, chairman of a House farm labor subcommittee, says he is certain those already named to the board are forceful spokesmen for their field. They include representatives of the pesticides and farm equipment industries, farmer organizations and milling operations.

But O'Hara contends the worker also should have voice in the deliberations.

"It seems to me that the men and women whose lives are put on the line in farm work—the men and women who are poisoned by pesticides and mangled by farm machinery—are morally entitled to a specific voice or voices on your advisory committee," O'Hara said in a letter to the department.

"There are millions of Americans who work for wages in American agriculture—millions of people who are exposed in the course of their daily work to the hazards of this advisory committee is created to think about," he said.

An Agriculture Department spokesman said O'Hara was right in his assessment of the committee's members if the term farm worker meant someone who works for wages on a farm.

But he said more than two-thirds of the toil on farms is done by the farmer himself and 14 of the 26 members are farmers. In addition, three members are farmers' wives, one is a rancher and another is a rancher's wife, the department spokesman said.

O'Hara's subcommittee has been studying farm accidents and the possibility of legislation aimed at halting work-related accidents on the farm.

Advertising Appeal To Recall POWs

ATCHISON, Kan. (AP) — The advertisement reads: "Please Don't Forget My Dad!"

The appeal appeared over the weekend in the Atchison, Kan., Daily Globe. It included a picture of 6-year-old Brian Stutz and noted that his father, Air Force Capt. LeRoy Stutz, has now been a prisoner of war five years.

Capt. Stutz was on a reconnaissance flight when his plane was shot down over North Vietnam. He was listed as missing in action for many months before word came from Hanoi that he was a prisoner.

Mrs. Karen Stutz and Brian, who make their home at Cummings in northeastern Kansas, haven't heard from Capt. Stutz in more than six months.

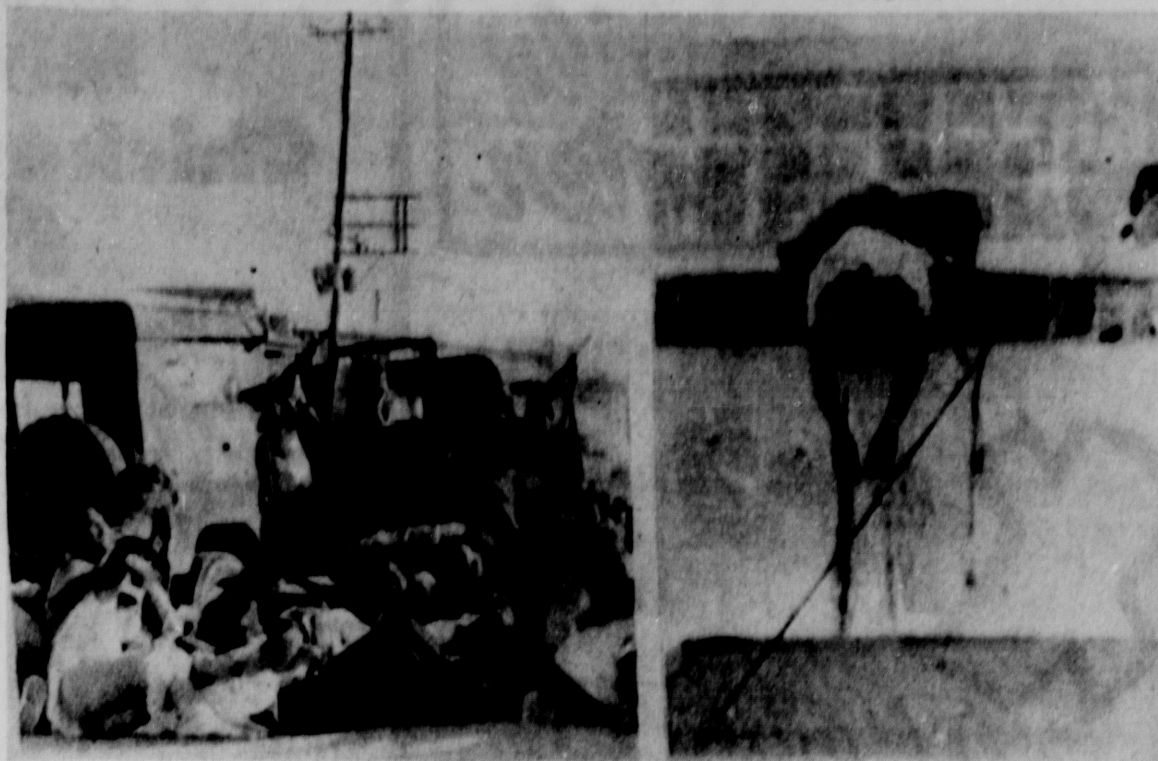

Robert Caplinger, an Atchison attorney and brother-in-law of Capt. Stutz, said, "apparently efforts to gain the release of our POWs in North Vietnam is bogged down in politics. Our appeals to the Kansas Congressional delegation in Washington as to the status of negotiations with Hanoi have gotten nowhere."

"We fear," Caplinger continued, "the issue has become a political football and as a result our POWs are being forgotten in the process."

Big Grant to CMSC For Program

(Democrat-Capital Service)

WARRENSBURG — Central Missouri State College here has received $47,000 in federal funds for the Missouri Safety Center to conduct a week-long training session and develop a three-year youth education program for the Kansas City Alcohol Safety Action Project.

The Kansas City ASAP is one of 35 nation ASAP programs designed to reduce the number of fatalities and injuries in alcohol-related traffic accidents by identifying and controlling the problem drinker, but it is the first ASAP to obtain extensive training for its staff or a youth education program.

The workshop, set for Monday through Friday, is designed to show personnel of ASAP Countermeasures Agencies how their organizations fit into the plan of the ASAP to curb the problem drinker and even the social drinker. Statistics show that the problem drinker represents only two per cent of drivers on the road, but is responsible for more than half of the alcohol-related fatal automobile accidents.

National, regional, state and local government officials and educators will lead discussions at the workshop along with the training given by the CMSC staff.

A special feature of the workshop will be the Wednesday program with national news media, state legislators, city officials, judges and the ASAP Advisory Council observing an alcohol — driving demonstration at the Highway Safety Instructional Park of the college.

ASAP officials hope that the demonstration will show Missouri legislators that the state alcohol law designating a blood alcohol content of .15 for a person to be considered "legally intoxicated" needs to be lowered to .10.

According to Dr. Robert L. Marshall, director of the Missouri Safety Center and dean of the School of Public Services at CMSC, "A 185-pound man would have to consume approximately nine martinis within an hour to have a blood alcohol content of .15. If the law were lowered to .10, the same man would be considered 'legally drunk' after consuming approximately six drinks within the same one hour period."

The youth education pilot program will be developed by the Missouri Safety Center in two secondary schools and will subsequently be available to all Kansas City schools. The three-year program will be structured to involve students in peer group education and solution of the drinking driver problems which relate to youth.

Louis Harris Survey

Wide Support Given to Phase Two

By LOUIS HARRIS

President Nixon's Phase II economic policies are widely supported by the American people, but the public is also convinced the country is some distance away from economic recovery. Although most feel the signs are pointing in the right direction, many of the scars from the period of simultaneously rising prices and unemployment still remain.

Major components of the President's Phase II program meet with approval from the public by substantial majorities. Between Oct. 28 and Nov. 12, a cross section of 3,978 households was asked:

"Now I would like to ask you about President Nixon's new economic program. Do you favor or oppose these points?"

Key Points in Economic Program
	Favor	Oppose	Not Sure
Remove $200 U. S. auto excise tax	82	6	12
Price Board to control price increases	72	10	18
10 per cent surcharge tax on imports	71	14	15
Stand-by controls over interest rates and dividends	69	10	21
Pay Board to control wage and salary increases	61	16	23
10 per cent business tax credit on new investment	39	31	30

Removal of the auto excise tax is overwhelmingly popular and placing a surcharge on imports from abroad meets with 5-to-1 public approval. The Board to control prices is favored more than the Pay Board, but even the latter is favored by Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

'Pink Water' Is Often Cure

Dear Dr. Lamb — I have been reading about the B vitamins and how effective they are in promoting a sound nervous system. I decided to try the B complex, as I have been under considerable pressure in my work.

It may be my imagination, but I found they seemed to help calm my nerves some. As I do not want to even take a mild tranquilizer, I was wondering whether B vitamins really do any good or harm if taken for a long period of time. How about the one-day supplemental vitamins that contain all vitamins and minerals and also include the B complex? Would it be harmful taking the B complex vitamin I already have plus the one-day? I would like some information on this before I decide to continue to take any kind of vitamin.

Dear Reader — If a person is eating a balanced diet with all the essential food components, he is not likely to need supplemental vitamins. With so many refined foods, such as sugar, that contain no appreciable amounts of vitamins or minerals, and the need many people have to diet, especially if they are not active physically, it is easy to have a deficient diet. Older people, who live alone, are prone to eat an inadequate diet. Under these circumstances, added vitamins are helpful.

Unless taken in really huge doses, there is no evidence that taking vitamins, even if you don't need them, will cause any harm — except vitamins A and D. All other vitamins you take in usual excess amounts are simply eliminated by the body. Thus, taking the B complex vitamins you already have plus a one-day brand won't hurt you but it won't help you either.

In plain language, take one or the other or you will just be throwing your money away.

Now you say you feel better after taking vitamins. That is fine, but don't be so sure it is the vitamins. Doctors have known for centuries that giving a patient any medicine, even pink water, often makes a patient feel better. This is especially true if the patient has nervous symptoms. The confidence the patient has in the pink water and the doctor lifts his spirits out of the doldrums, he regains his energies and feels better. A lot of feeling bad is related to one's emotional outlook. A person can truly be "worried sick."

You might be shocked that a doctor would give his patient pink water. Fifty years ago, without antibiotics, and many of the medicines we have today, the doctor had little else to give some of his patients except hope, and hope came in a little bottle full of pink water. Phenobarb was the only tranquilizer he had and when pink water worked, it was wonderful. Moreover, it didn't cause any complications, like dependence upon drugs. Pink water, spiritual music, health spas, copper bracelets and other devices have brought relief to millions. The human mind is a strange and wonderful mechanism.

almost four times as many who oppose the idea. Stand-by controls over interest rates and dividends are approved much more than the 10 per cent business tax credit, although even that measure receives plurality backing.

However, approval of major parts of the President's Phase II program does not automatically mean that the public is convinced the measures will work. Basically, by 46 to 28 per cent, most Americans feel the new steps will "keep inflation in check." But by 43-30 per cent, the public tends to doubt the new economic policies will "reduce unemployment."

By only a narrow margin of 35-32 per cent, does the public think the controls program will "bring the country out of the recession." And most people do not see the measures helping their personal finances, 46-32 per cent.

It is fair to conclude that public hopes for President Nixon's economic policies are relatively high, but they have not yet felt the impact of recovery enough to be convinced the steps taken will do the job of stabilizing inflation and restoring good times. Nonetheless, the intensity with which people feel the pressures of inflation appears to be easing significantly.

Since March, the number who feel prices are still rising more rapidly than a year ago has declined 20 points, from 73 to 53 per cent. For the first time, in this survey more than one in ten Americans see price increases leveling out.

The intensity of people's awareness of unemployment did not change between September and this latest survey.

"Do you feel that unemployment around here compared to a year ago has increased, decreased, or stayed about the same?"

Trend in Unemployment

	Increased	Decreased	Stayed Same	Not Sure
Latest	47	6	40	7
Sept.	47	7	39	7
Aug.	58	6	31	5
July	70	5	22	3
May	65	4	25	6
March	62	4	29	5

Less than half the public, however, now feels unemployment is still on the rise in their own home area. This is down from 70 per cent who felt that way back in July, a significant drop of 23 points.

Nonetheless, roughly half the public still feels that prices and unemployment are continuing to go up. Some economic analysts believe that the roots of America's current economic troubles have in large measure been psychological — a lack of confidence that the economy is turning around. Gains in confidence among the people clearly have been registered, but are still quite a distance short of a spirit of optimism.

City Nets Benton For Historic Mural

Envy the city of Joplin!

The reason? Missouri's most famous artist—Thomas Hart Benton—has agreed to come out of his "retirement" as a muralist and paint one for the Joplin centennial of 1973.

To be hung in the Joplin Municipal Building, Benton's mural will depict the Missouri town at the turn of the century, when it was in the midst of a mining boom.

Benton's career in art actually started in Joplin, he has written in his autobiography. The first sketch he did from life was on assignment for the Joplin American, where he hired on as a reporter. From that point on it is all history, and American art is much the richer for it.

The artist, now 82, lived through the boom town years in Joplin, and will draw upon his memories of that period to paint the mural, which will be entitled "Joplin at the Turn of the Century."

It will cost $60,000, of which $10,000 has been donated by the National Endowment for the Arts. This is an unprecedented step by the federal government, indicative of the high esteem in which Missouri's famous artist is held.

Joplin has scored something of a coup in getting Benton to consent to the mural, since he had sworn off that form after completing the Truman Library mural 10 years ago.

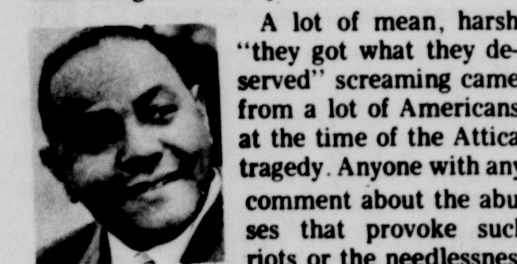

Thomas Hart Benton's paintings are steeped in Missouri culture and history. We envy Joplin for obtaining the services of this great artist for what could well be his final achievement in this form.

Will Horrors Lead To Prison Reform?

WASHINGTON — That dreadful Attica prison riot and the 43 people who died in it are virtually forgotten by all but a few Americans.

But out of the sordid silence a few voices keep crying out about the injustices, the dangers to the future, the need for us to do something about our prisons.

A lot of mean, harsh "they got what they deserved" screaming came from a lot of Americans at the time of the Attica tragedy. Anyone with any comment about the abuses that provoke such riots or the needlessness of the killings was assailed as a bleeding heart liberal with no concern about law and order.

You just wonder if these people have their minds completely closed or if they bothered to read that three-judge U.S. Court of Appeals finding that inmates at Attica were tortured, beaten and threatened for long periods after the riot.

You wonder how many Americans really paid any attention to testimony in the House of Representatives by Florida Judge Richard Kelly about the brutality and horror he saw in prisons where he posed as an inmate.

In that New York opinion, Judge Walter Mansfield said the post-riot abuse of prisoners "far exceeded what our society will tolerate on the part of officers of the law in custody of defenseless prisoners."

These abuses included striking and prodding injured prisoners, forcing some to strip and run through a gauntlet of club-wielding guards, spitting on inmates, burning them with matches, poking them in the genitals with sticks. There were threats to kill some inmates whom the white guards constantly referred to as "niggers" and "coons."

This may go beyond what the federal courts will tolerate, but it remains to be proven that it is more than society will tolerate. It shouldn't be a secret to anyone that this fiendish behavior by guards took place before the Attica riot and is taking place this week in other prisons.

Judge Kelly, no bleeding heart but a self-admitted state's-righter, told the House select committee on crime that prison guards are "socialized to hate the convicts." It doesn't take a lot of "socializing" to achieve this when someone is dumb enough, or arrogant enough, to put an all-white guard force over inmates who are overwhelmingly black or Puerto Rican, as was done at Attica.

The U.S. Court of Appeals made it clear that it would not have enjoined Attica officials if the abuses had been just a single incident not likely to recur. But the record showed that the brutalities were many, they occurred over a long period, and the court had to assume they might be repeated.

The self-styled hard-liners outside prison walls will want to dismiss the cruelty on grounds that this is what "a bunch of robbers, rapists and murderers" deserves. But the pathetic thing about our prisons, as Judge Kelly found it, is that so many weak, mentally ill persons are locked up with the worst felons. They, too, are being insulted, threatened, beaten by hostile guards when what they need is treatment for their mental and emotional problems.

Judge Kelly found that even the convicts have "contempt...for a society that sends its children and insane to live with felons."

We talk about reforming all this, but as the talk fades we run — in the expectation it will cost money we don't wish to spend. But Judge Kelly says we could house inmates decently on the money we now are spending "if our prisons were austere, hard, clean, fair and free of corruption."

Obviously they are not fair or free of corruption. They never will be as long as public prejudices and emotions allow Americans to wink at the kind of brutalities practiced at Attica or the cruel insensitivity that Judge Kelly says is commonplace in our prisons.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The tomahawk was a war hatchet used by North American Indians. The World Almanac recalls that the Iroquois Indians had a custom of burying their tomahawks and other weapons after making peace with an enemy. This custom is the basis for the expression "to bury the hatchet," denoting an end of hostilities.

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Gentle, bewhiskered Sen. Phil Hart, D-Mich., moved by letters that would bring tears to harder eyes than his, has ordered a new Senate probe of health costs, Medicare frauds and other medical abuses involving the aged.

He is grimly determined to expose the heartless doctors, hospital administrators, blood bank operators and insurance agents who put profits ahead of their elderly patients.

Hart's anti-trust subcommittee will zero in on (1) hospital officials who load their hospitals with costly, often unnecessary medical equipment from firms that pay them "consultant" fees; (2) doctors who charge incompetent patients for fake services and otherwise run up their medical bills beyond what their insurance will allow; and (3) blood banks which extract blood from donors and then, for a fat fee, allow hospitals to sell the extra blood.

Hart will also rap the pillar-of-the-community medical leaders who have stood by while these abuses have flourished, as well as the federal officials who have turned their backs on the constant complaints.

The ultimate victims, in Hart's cases, are the helpless old. But most other Americans are also stuck for all this medical gouging in the form of higher health insurance premiums, medical fees and tax payments.

The chiseling by hospital officials who double as equipment consultants was discovered by Hart's red-haired health specialist, attorney Dorothy Goodwin, while she was inspecting a California hospital.

In an intensive care unit, she noticed two costly identical monitors, which tell nurses about a patient's pulse, respiration and blood pressure. An embarrassed hospital official admitted the second electronic screen wasn't needed but was installed at the insistence of the intensive care administrator. He just happened to be a consultant for the firm which made the monitors.

From his mail, Hart has learned of more vicious medical sharks. Here are two typical examples: A Liberty, N.Y., lawyer named Alfred Beck wrote that his 80-year-old aunt had been charged $150 a month for "daily" $5 visits by a Medicare doctor. Beck checked hospital medical records, which showed the visits had occurred only about once a week. When the senator asked Social Security Commissioner Robert Ball about the case, a mild letter of regret came back. No action was taken to expose or prosecute the doctor.

Hart also heard from Charles Williams, 82, of Grand Rapids, Mich., whose 69-year-old wife, Helen, languished for months in a hospital, then a nursing home, before passing away. The hospital is now trying to collect $3,500 from him, the nursing home another $2,500, which Social Security and the Medicare underwriters have refused to pay.

The paper shufflers contend that Mrs. Williams was a "custodial care patient" who didn't need "a high level of skilled nursing." But the pathetic old man, in a shaky hand, has written Hart that his wife "needed 100 per cent nursing care to live from day to day. She was unable to control her bodily functions. Besides a catheter, she had to wear a diaper most of the time. She could not speak as she had lost her voice. She was fed baby food, soft stuff, as she was unable to chew regular food."

When the senator intervened, Commissioner Ball promised "a formal hearing..." That was in July. We reached Williams in Grand Rapids at the end of November. He had heard nothing from Ball or the bureau.

Snorted the plucky, old World War I veteran: "I was saving that $6,000 for my golden years. Some golden years!"

Footnote: Hart has received many similar complaints, which precipitated his new investigation. We have also received such a flood of letters about hospital scandals and medical costs that we are unable to answer them all. We have arranged to forward those we can't handle to Senator Hart.

Air Pullout — The withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam is running ahead of President Nixon's schedule. But no additional cutback is planned in U.S. airpower over Vietnam. The Air Force and Navy have already reduced their peak air capability in Vietnam by half. This still leaves more than 400 fighters, bombers and gun ships in Vietnam. President Nixon has quietly agreed not to reduce this level during the next few months.

Costly Recipes — The Congressional Club — a group of congressional, Cabinet and Supreme Court wives — put together an annual collection of the wives' favorite recipes and sell it as a cookbook. This year the sales campaign is headed up by Lee Talcott, wife of Rep. Burt Talcott, R-Calif. She recently sent out letters, advertising the cookbook, to her husband's colleagues. They were printed on her husband's official stationery, inserted in postage-free envelopes, and distributed via the congressional messenger system. It was, in other words, a miniature version of a typical Washington recipe wherein the bigwigs get the bacon and the taxpayers get fried.

Arrow Rock Memories

Your article Nov. 28 on the front page, "Postal Service Will Continue At Arrow Rock," was read with much interest.

I, for one, certainly feel that Arrow Rock is a wonderful place and a real attraction at any time to visitors, not only in Missouri, but from all over the nation. To me the post office is the center of the town's activities, and is used by all. It should remain there and operate in the years to come.

It did surprise me to read that the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. was establishing a telephone museum in the town we serve.

Our company, the Mid-Missouri Telephone Co., has served Arrow Rock since 1946, when we acquired the telephone property from The Blackwater-Arrow Rock Telephone Co.

We are in the process of establishing the telephone museum, using the old manual magneto switchboard that had been in service from 1914 until the time we converted the system to dial service in 1958.

One incident I get a laugh out of often comes to my mind, and was related to me by Mrs. Velma D. Townsend, who operated the office for almost 39 years, and was on duty the night the bank robbers cut all the telephone cables between the house and the telephone pole, so that help could not be summoned. The important connection they failed to sever was the long distance line. It was a single aerial drop wire, similar to the telephone line serving most homes in towns of today. When the operator discovered that the lines were cut, she also found that she had a way to secure outside help by calling over her one and only long distance line.

Memories have been dimmed through the years by those who have passed on, but oh, if that old switchboard were a computer, and could print out all the interesting and juicy conversations that have passed through its nerves of copper, what a best seller it would produce.

See Link To Nixon Policies

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA News Analyst

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Are President Nixon's Phase I and II direct steals from two books by John Kenneth Galbraith?

Some prominent economists say so, though not for publication. Galbraith, himself, when phoned, refused to answer the question. To respond truthfully, he said, would be immodest. But he did suggest that this reporter read chapter five of his book, "A Contemporary Guide To Economics, Peace and Laughter." His secretary thoughtfully sent a copy.

On pages 97 and 98 Galbraith writes "...the best plan is a modification of one offered by Robert Roosa, former undersecretary of the Treasury under Kennedy. He would begin by freezing all prices and wages for six months. This would break the structure of inflationary expectations and assure the unions that they could bargain on the assumption of stable living costs. During this six-month period there would be active consultation with corporations and unions to work out a more durable system of restraint. Steps would also have to be taken to iron out gross inequalities — as for example between unions that had just won a new contract and those that were at the end of an old one..."

So much for Phase I and the preliminaries of Phase II, though Galbraith does not mention these terms. Then apparently on his own, Galbraith writes:

"Only prices that are so set (not by the free play of the market) need to be controlled. Prices of farm products, of most services and products of small manufacturers are still subject to market influences. Where prices are still set by the market, general measures to restrict demand still work — or they do as much as can be done...one does not need to interfere with the market where the market still governs..."

"...if the controls are confined to the unions and to the corporations with market power, as here proposed, the administrative structure need not be vast. Dealings will be with only a few hundred unions and a few thousand firms and for the latter it is sufficient to specify the limits within which average as distinct from individual prices may be moved..."

In an earlier book, "A Theory of Price Control," written in 1952, Galbraith wrote:

"In an ideal model of inflation control when the requisite restraint is being kept on demand, price controls would be confined to imperfect markets (in which competition does not control) where prices are administratively determined. Wage controls would be confined to those wages that are set by collective bargaining with effective unions..."

"The foregoing means, in practical terms, that the steel, automotive, electrical, chemical and like industries would be under price control, as would the wages of the unions with which those industries deal. In this part of the economy, firms have undoubted discretion to move their prices. And such movements are made in response to the cost-shoving effect of wage increases..."

Too much should not be made of these coincidences. Galbraith has, of course, gotten a number of his ideas from other men. Roosa for one, and from the government's price and wage control experience during World War II and Korea.

It will be noted also that Nixon has made exemptions in some areas where Galbraith in 1952 said no official would dare make exemptions — in agricultural products, for example. For Galbraith wrote in 1952 "...Union leadership in the United States undoubtedly has a high level of economic literacy, but it would be a taxing job to explain to labor why wages must be fixed while agricultural prices are susceptible to control by indirect means..."

So it may be that Nixon and Galbraith independently drank from the same sources and the same experiences.

Oswald: "In a recent Swiss team match I saw a hand that was ideal for skipping Blackwood. Seven was reached rather easily after Harold Feldheim of New York elected to bid five clubs rather than four no-trump."

Jim: "He might well have tried Blackwood after South bid four diamonds, but he really wanted to find out if South liked his hand. It is possible to give South one ace with a minimum hand and wind up with no play for six, much less seven."

Oswald: "Exactly. When Harold bid five clubs South knew that he was trying for a slam. Up to that stage of the proceedings, South had done nothing to show that he held a really good hand. His bid of five hearts clearly told his partner that he held second round heart control and wanted to be in six or seven."

Jim: "North's jump to seven diamonds was a slightly calculated risk but he must have felt that if South didn't want to get to seven. South would simply have jumped to six diamonds over five clubs."

Oswald: "That is the exact inference South meant to convey."

Jim: "Do I know South?"

Oswald: "Rather well! I was South."

Ellison Sets Rushing Record

Sunday, A Day of Upsets in Pro Football

Crunching Tackle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Los Angeles running back Willie Ellison started things off in grand style against New Orleans Sunday.

The five-year veteran raced 80 yards for a touchdown early in the first quarter and then rushed 247 yards in 26 carries for a National Football League record.

"It took a lot of extra effort and stamina. It's the happiest day of my life," the 200-pound Ellison said after the Rams upended New Orleans 45-28.

Ellison's performance stole attention from a 105-yard kickoff return by Travis Williams and three touchdown tosses by Roman Gabriel.

He broke the standard of 243 yards set by Cookie Gilchrist of Buffalo against the New York Jets on Dec. 8, 1963 in the American Football League and the mark of 237 yards established twice by former Cleveland standout Jim Brown.

"Just about everybody told me at halftime that I would get the record," he said. "The line did a tremendous job of blocking and Gabriel did a great job of selecting plays against the New Orleans defense."

In other contests Sunday, San Diego upset Minnesota 30-14, New England stunned Miami 34-13, Philadelphia edged Detroit 23-20, Cleveland nipped Cincinnati 31-27, Atlanta defeated Oakland 24-13, Houston swamped Pittsburgh 29-3, Washington crushed the New York Giants 23-7, Denver downed Chicago 6-3, Green Bay and St. Louis battled to a 16-16 tie and Baltimore blanked Buffalo 24-0.

In Saturday's game, Dallas swarmed over the New York Jets 52-10.

The San Francisco 49ers entertained the Kansas City Chiefs in Monday night's nationally televised game.

The Dolphins' setback spoiled their bid to clinch the American Conference's East Division title and moved them into a showdown with the Colts.

Minnesota's unexpected loss stopped them from sewing up the National Conference's Central Division crown.

Quarterback John Hadl led his team 63 yards in seven plays to set up the go-ahead touchdown as the Chargers barreled from behind to reel off 20 points in the final quarter. With the Steelers' upset over the Lions, Minnesota could have secured Central Division laurels by winning.

Several Miami miscues and precision passing by rookie Jim Plunkett snapped the Dolphins' eight-game victory streak.

Mercury Morris took the opening kickoff 94 yards for a touchdown to give Miami an early lead, but Plunkett then rifled eight straight passes to set up a touchdown. Plunkett, who celebrated his 24th birthday Sunday, completed 16 of 23 passes for 223 yards.

Leroy Kelly plunged four yards with 1:48 remaining as the Browns garnered the AFC's Central Division title, which they will retain even if they lose their final two games.

Norm Bulaich's one-yard lunge capping a 78-yard march broke a scoreless tie in the third period and veteran Johnny Unitas then fired a five-yarder to Ray Perkins for his first scoring pass of the season.

The Falcons intercepted Darlye Lamonica twice and recovered three fumbles in handing the Raiders their second straight loss. Atlanta also suffered five turnovers but sealed the win after Oakland couldn't score after grabbing a fumble on the Atlanta four.

Washington snagged four interceptions in the first half and Larry Brown scored twice while picking up 129 yards. New York's sole touchdown came when Otto Brown recovered a blocked punt in the end zone.

The Oilers' rigid defense turned three Terry Bradshaw interceptions into points as safety John Charles made his fourth and fifth interceptions and defensive tackle Leo Brooks pilfered another.

Pete Liske hit Kent Kramer with a five-yard pass in the final minute as the Eagles came from behind to ruin Detroit's NFC Central Division playoff aspirations. Moments before Liske's scoring pass, the Lions went ahead 20-16 on quarterback Greg Landry's five-yard run.

Jim Turner kicked a 33-yard field goal with two minutes left after giving the Broncos an early 3-0 advantage with a 34-yard boot. Denver's defense limited the Bears to 66 yards total offense and dumped quarterback Bobby Douglass nine times.

Rookie Tim Webster's 27-yard field goal as the final gun sounded hoisted the Packers into a tie after both teams scored touchdowns in the final seven minutes.

Chiefs-49ers' . . .

Clash Is Crucial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — John Brodie and Len Dawson, veteran quarterbacks whose teams are fighting for playoff berths, meet in tonight's crucial National Football League game.

The nationally televised contest brings Brodie's San Francisco 49ers and Dawson's Kansas City Chiefs together for the first time.

The 49ers, 7-4-0, need a victory to stay ahead of Los Angeles, 7-4-1 and winners Sunday over New Orleans. Meanwhile, Kansas City needs a victory to move ahead of Oakland in the AFC West. The Raiders, 7-3-2, lost to Atlanta Sunday and Kansas City is 7-3-1.

Brodie, who has thrown 21 interceptions this season compared to 10 all of last year, has taken much of the blame for the 49ers' four frustrating losses.

But Chiefs Coach Hank Stram calls the 36-year-old passer, last year's Most Valuable Player in the NFL, "one of the great quarterbacks in the business."

And the 49ers' receiving team of Gene Washington, Dick Wither and Ted Kwalick has an edge in experience on the Chiefs' trio of starters, Stram says.

"But remember, I'm talking only of experience," the coach adds.

Otis Taylor, with 40 receptions for 861 yards, is one of the NFL's top pass catchers and the other Chiefs' wide receiver, rookie Elmo Wright, is starting to show the form that made him an All-American at the University of Houston.

The Chiefs have been off since Thanksgiving Day, when their defensive backfield was humiliated in a 32-21 loss to Detroit. Their pass defense is 12th in the AFC, but has come up with 21 interceptions.

San Francisco's defense ranks second to Dallas' in the NFC. And the 49ers have out-gained their opponents in three of their four losses this season.

Rangers Top Vancouver; Blues Edge Detroit, 2-1

Whether you use a three-man line, as the first-place New York Rangers did, or a one-man line, as the last-place Buffalo Sabres did, it all boils down to the same thing — victory.

New York's Rod Gilbert, Jean Ratelle and Vic Hadfield, the highest scoring line in the National Hockey League, erupted for a goal apiece in a quick second-period flurry that enabled the Rangers to beat Vancouver 6-3 Sunday night and take a two-point lead over Montreal and Boston in the NHL's East Division.

Meanwhile, Buffalo got three goals from rookie Craig Ramsay, his first goals in the NHL, and defeated Minnesota's West Division leaders 3-1.

Elsewhere, Boston held Pittsburgh 5-3, Chicago thrashed Los Angeles 7-0, Philadelphia blanked California 3-0 and St. Louis edged Detroit 2-1.

New York and Vancouver were deadlocked 2-2 in the second period when Gilbert, Ratelle and Hadfield lit the red light in a span of 4:06. It was the 22nd time in 25 games the line produced at least one goal, the sixth time they all scored and gave them 53 goals and 74 assists.

Garry Unger's sixth goal in as many games snapped a tie early in the third period and lifted St. Louis over Detroit. A fight broke out between Bob and Barclay Plager and some Detroit fans with nine seconds left in the game. Police had to move in and remove the spectators.

Ellison Rushes to Record

Tipton Champs

Grems Upset Way to Title

Sacred Heart basketball fans were still gloating Monday over the Gremlins' three upset victories that brought the red and white the championship of the annual Tipton Tournament.

Their fans weren't the only ones gloating either. Still nervous over the Friday night win over Jefferson City and the Saturday night conquest of Eldon, Gremlin Coach Tom Beer gazed over his statistics Monday morning.

"It really gave us a boost, but we almost folded after the overtime win against Jefferson City," Beer said.

"I guess we felt like the high point of the tournament was when we beat the Jays in the semifinals," he added.

Sacred Heart battled the odds all the way through the tournament. In the opening game, they upset fourth-seeded Versailles, 89-60. And then came the big win over Jefferson City in overtime, 62-60, Friday night.

The Gremlins held on for a 74-70 win over second-seeded Eldon in Saturday night's championship battle.

The wins were particularly gratifying to Sacred Heart since all the victories were over schools in higher classes. Sacred Heart is a Class S school, according to Missouri State High School Activities Association, while Versailles and Eldon are Class M and Jefferson City Class L.

Sacred Heart almost missed their bid for the tourney title Saturday night after building up a seven-point, 21-14, lead over the Mustangs in the opening period.

Eldon matched the Grems' output in the second quarter of 20 points and Sacred Heart took a 41-34 lead into the dressing room.

However, in the third quarter, Eldon caught the Gremlins, and Sacred Heart held only a 53-52 margin as the fourth quarter opened.

Eldon grabbed the lead early in the fourth period, but reserve center Mark Dunham, coming in for Jeff Karigan who had been charged with four fouls, sank two important one-and-one situation free throws to put Sacred Heart out in front to stay.

Dunham had only six points in the game, but the four foul shots lifted the Grems when they needed it.

"Jeff Karigan and Dunham did a great job of holding down David Byrd," Beer lamented; "we felt that if we could slow him down, they would have to go elsewhere for their points."

The Mustangs did just that and had as nearly a balanced scoring attack as did Sacred Heart.

Steve Karigan and Bill Freund shared the game's scoring honor with 16 points each on Sacred Heart's side of the ledger. Bill Straka and Jeff Karigan added 14 apiece.

Byrd was tops for Eldon with 13; Jerry Porter added 12, while Craig Curtiss had 11 and John Gambill and Keith Whitworth ten each.

Sacred Heart will take on Pilot Grove in a non-conference game Tuesday night in Pilot Grove. The Grems are at Northwest Friday night in a Kaysinger Conference contest.

Rain Delays Disney Finals

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Pro

golf's prestigious leading money winning spot was scheduled to be settled today—one week early—with Jack Nicklaus holding the inside track on Lee Trevino and Arnold Palmer.

"I'm leading the tournament going into the final round," Nicklaus said. "If I win, I'm going to be the leading money winner. If I don't win from this position, I don't deserve to be the leading money winner."

This was the situation today heading into the final round of the rain-delayed Walt Disney World Open Golf Tournament: Trevino already has set a single-season money winning record with $229,777. But he hasn't been a factor in this tournament and is well back in the field at 213.

Nicklaus is second in money with $214,491, but leads the tournament—which offers a $30,000 first prize from a $150,000 total purse—by a single stroke at 205.

Palmer, who at one time shared the third-round lead, has $200,741 earnings and must win the tournament to have a chance at the money title. He's three strokes back at 208.

There's one more tournament on the schedule, next week's Bahama Islands Open. But all three contenders let the Sunday afternoon deadline slip by without making an entry. None will play.

"I'm tired, mentally tired, and I want to rest up for next year," said Trevino.

"I'd like to win the money title, but I've played enough this year," the 42-year-old Palmer said.

Nicklaus managed a two-under-par 70 in the third round Sunday to take sole control of the top spot in the tournament just one stroke over Bert Yancey, who also had a 70 for 206.

At one time or another Nicklaus, Yancey, Palmer, Frank Beard and Terry Dill all led or shared the lead.

But Yancey double bogeyed the ninth when he gambled in the rough. Beard double bogeyed the 17th. Palmer left it in a trap and took a double bogey on the 16th. Dill finished double bogey-par-triple bogey, the seven on the finishing hole after two trips into the woods.

That let rookie Lanny Wadkins, with a 69, and Dean Berman, 66, move into a tie for third at 207, two strokes back. Palmer and Beard, each with a 71, were tied at 208 with Lou Graham and Dwight Nevil.

Dill went to a 75 for 210, well back.

Lone Unbeaten Bengals Host Montana St.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Missouri, only remaining undefeated basketball team in the Big Eight Conference, seeks its third victory tonight against Montana State at Columbia, Mo.

The Tigers' two triumphs support the belief of some that Missouri may be the favorite in the Big Eight race which begins in January.

Missouri just did remain unbeaten, squeezing by Arkansas 74-73 Saturday night on Orv Salmon's pair of free throws with 44 seconds left.

Five other Big Eight teams, four of them smarting from Saturday night losses, also see action tonight. Kansas, 14th ranked, goes to Indiana with a 79-69 defeat by Kentucky and its 28-game home court winning streak broken fresh on its mind. Oklahoma, ranked No. 20, goes to Texas Tech, and Nebraska invades Duquesne.

Kansas State entertains Kentucky at home, and Colorado is host to Washington.

All eight teams were busy Saturday night with Kansas State the only club able to match Missouri's victory. The Wildcats won third place in the Time Zone Tournament by whipping College of the Pacific 80-75 to make their record 1-1.

The other tilts saw Iowa State lose to Minnesota 72-58, Oklahoma bow to Illinois 70-65, Nebraska routed by Wichita State 74-61, Oklahoma State clobbered by Memphis State 84-68 and Colorado nipped by Air Force 78-77.

Missouri trailed Arkansas 45-38 at the half but rallied to pull ahead on John Brown's free toss with 17:01 left. Brown had his best game ever, pouring in 26 points.

Kansas could never gain the advantage over Kentucky and fell behind for good midway through the first half. The Jayhawks managed to trim the Wildcats' lead to one point at times but could get no closer. Kansas, 1-1, was led by Bud Stallworth with 26 points.

Danny Beard, a sophomore, paced Kansas State in the BYU tournament at Provo, Utah, pitching in 27 points. Kansas State, 1-1, shot its way to a 46-34 halftime lead.

Iowa State, 1-1, although it led 33-31 at the intermission, could not compete with Minnesota on the boards. The Gophers outscored the Cyclones 48-27. Gene Mack's 19 points topped Iowa State.

Oklahoma lost its second game in as many tests even though Bobby Jack popped in 28 points for the Sooners. After trailing by 15 points, the Sooners streaked ahead at 54-53 with nine minutes left and then yielded.

Nebraska, 1-2, led Wichita State 33-32 at halftime but was buried by a barrage of eight straight points by the Shockers late in the contest. For the third game, Chuck Jura led Nebraska. He got 16 points.

Memphis State squared Oklahoma State's record at 1-1 by running up a 45-27 lead over the Cowboys in the first half. Steve Uthoff collected 15 points for the Cowboys.

Colorado's loss to Air Force was its first in basketball. The Buffs, 0-2, got a 27-point performance from Jim Creighton.

This week's remaining schedule:

Tuesday — Iowa State at Drake.

Wednesday — Texas at Kansas State; Wichita State at Colorado; Notre Dame at Kansas.

Thursday — Virginia Commonwealth at Missouri; Stetson at Oklahoma.

Friday — Iowa State at UCLA; Oregon State at Oklahoma State; Texas Tech at Colorado; University of Pacific at Missouri.

McMillen, Burleson On Sprees

By BERT ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tom McMillen, Maryland's highly touted 6-foot-11 center, has received a major share of the early-season publicity among college basketball's towering and talented sophomores, but he might have to make room for the biggest newcomer of them all—7-4 Tom Burleson of North Carolina State.

Burleson, the tallest player in the nation, erupted for 37 points Saturday night, leading the unranked Wolfpack to a 92-81 victory over Georgia, while McMillen scored 35 points as the sixth-rated Terrapins set a school scoring record in beating George Washington 117-96.

Burleson's height is not his only asset. "Tommy's size is a tremendous advantage, of course," says North Carolina State Coach Norm Sloan, "but he also is a great all-around basketball player. He's an excellent passer, and a lot of people are going to be surprised by the number of assists he'll have each game. Offensively, he could be awesome."

Could he? Burleson broke a 72-72 tie against Georgia with six straight points in the second half as the Wolfpack pulled away for their second victory in two games.

Maryland's triumph also was its second in two outings and its 117 points shattered the school record of 111 points set last year against Miami, Fla. McMillen, who hit for 27 points in the first half, connected on 14 of 16 field goal attempts and seven of nine free throws.

He got help from seven-foot sophomore Mark Cartwright, who netted 18 points.

Meanwhile, top-ranked UCLA, seeking its sixth consecutive national championship, coasted to its second easy victory in a row, routing Iowa 106-72 as Henry Bibby set a career high with 32 points.

Robert McAdoo's 27 points, Dennis Wuycik's 21 and George Karl's 20 led second-ranked North Carolina to a 90-75 triumph over Pitt. Southern Francisco 102-82 as Paul Westphal led the way with 31 points and 12 assists.

Fourth-ranked Marquette, behind Bob Lackey's 21 points and Marcus Washington's 20, trounced Bowling Green 84-64. Seven-foot Luke Witte's 21 points helped fifth-rated Ohio State top Oregon 68-57.

Houston, No. 7, edged Tennessee 67-65 despite a 28-point showing by the Volunteers' Mike Edwards. Long Beach State, rated eighth, used Ed Ratliff's 33 points to withstand Nevada-Las Vegas 83-72.

A string of 30 consecutive points helped No. 9 Louisville crush Bellarmine 116-58, and 10th-ranked Kentucky ended the 28-game home court winning streak of 14th-rated Kansas, beating the Jayhawks 79-69.

Ernie Fleming's 25 points paced 11th-ranked Jacksonville to a 77-68 decision over East Carolina. Henry Wilmore pumped in 38 points, sparking No. 13 Michigan to a 90-69 victory over Western Michigan.

Penn. rated 15th, got 26 points from Bobby Morse, 23 from Phil Hankinson and 20 points, 14 rebounds and nine assists from Corky Calhoun, in trimming Navy 94-74. Harold Little's two free throws with 13 seconds remaining gave New Mexico a 78-76 upset victory over 16th-ranked New Mexico State.

St. John's, N.Y., No. 17, was sparked by Greg Cluess' 25 points in a 98-81 triumph over Vanderbilt. Villanova, the No. 18 team, rallied from a seven-point first-half deficit and defeated Detroit 83-64 as Chris Ford paced the offense with 26 points.

Brigham Young, rated 19th, won its Time Zone Tournament, edging St. Joseph's, Pa., with the help of Kresimir Cosic's 31 points, and 20th-ranked Oklahoma bowed to Illinois 70-65.

"This club will be able to do more things this season than last when we had an 11-15 record," Hartman says. "Our offense will be strengthened with improved guard play and depth. Probably our biggest improvement will be in speed and quickness, and our experience should be a plus."

"We could be much better. Our kids are feeling optimistic this year and so I am going to throw our name in with Missouri and Oklahoma as teams which could win the conference championship."

At present, the starting Wildcat line-up shapes up with rookies Beard and Lonnie Kruger at the guards, Hall at center and Zender and Kusnyer at the forwards.

Mitchell was Kansas State's No. 1 point producer last season with 371 points or a 14.3

Portland's Dale Schlueter seems to be up in the air over his job with the Trailblazers during Sunday's game with the Los Angeles Lakers. Schlueter intimidated Lakers' Gail Goodrich so much with this jump, Goodrich walked and turned the ball over. However, it made little difference as the Lakers won their 17th straight NBA game of the season, 123-107. (UPI)

Cornhuskers Have Little Opposition

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Big Eight Conference has closed its books on regular season play in football and now puts its pride on the line in four post-season bowl contests.

Top-ranked Nebraska and third-ranked Oklahoma came away with easy victories Saturday in the two closing games and start preparations for New Year's Day clashes.

Nebraska, unbeaten in 31 straight games, romped over Hawaii 45-3 in a night game at Honolulu some few hours after Oklahoma had smothered Oklahoma State 58-14 in the league finale at Stillwater, Okla.

The Cornhuskers take their 12-0 record to Miami to meet second-ranked Alabama in the Orange Bowl in a game that undoubtedly will decide the national championship. Oklahoma, 10-1, goes to New Orleans to battle Auburn in the Sugar Bowl.

Iowa State, 8-3, opens the bowl season for Big Eight teams against Louisiana State in the Sun Bowl Dec. 18. Colorado, 9-2, faces Houston in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl Dec. 31.

Jerry Tagge, second team

All-America quarterback, tossed touchdown passes of 80 yards to Jerry List, 32 yards to Johnny Rodgers and 17 yards to Frosty Anderson and scored himself on a 12-yard run as the Cornhuskers brushed aside the Rainbows with little effort.

The Big Eight champions made 481 yards in total offense and rolled for 17 first period points. Tagge's pitch to List was the Cornhuskers' longest scoring pass of the campaign.

Jack Mildren scored twice on runs of five and one yard and hurried 18 yards to Al Chandler in Oklahoma's rout of the Cowboys.

Greg Pruitt, the league's leading rusher, ran for two touchdowns, driving one and seven yards. He turned in a 189-yard rushing performance to bring his season's total to 1,665 yards to set a conference record. The old single season rushing record of 1,536 yards was made in 1968 by Steve Owens of Oklahoma.

Oklahoma also set an NCAA total offense record of 566.2 yards a game by collecting 584 yards rushing and 112 passing against the Cowpokes. The old game average in total offense was set in 1968 by Houston.

The victory gave Oklahoma second place in the conference with a 6-1 mark. Oklahoma State, 2-5, tied Kansas State and Kansas for fifth place. The Cowboys won four, lost six and tied one.

Staub was the only National League player to participate in 162 games during the past baseball season, official statistics from the league office reveal.

Joe Torre of the St. Louis Cardinals sat out one game — and certainly earned the day off. The league's Most Valuable Player hit .363, drove in 137 runs, had 230 hits and 352 total bases to lead NL batters in four categories.

The last batter to take as many individual titles was the Cards' Stan Musial, the leader in eight departments in 1948.

Ralph Garr of Atlanta, in his first full major league season, was runnerup to Torre with a .343 average as he edged two veterans in a close race.

Goenn Beckert of Chicago finished at .342 and four-time champion Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh hit .341.

Torre, in winning his first batting title, helped the Cardinals post the best team batting mark, .275. The world champion Pittsburgh Pirates hit .274.

Other individual leaders included the Cards' Lou Brock, who had 126 runs and 64 stolen bases.

Lakers Win 17th in Row

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Lakers are unbeatable with Jerry West in the lineup. Without him, they are less than a 500 club.

West, one of the National Basketball Association's all-time leading scorers, has played in 21 games this season—and the Lakers have won them all. He missed five games, and Los Angeles won only two of them.

The streaking Lakers, led by West and Happy Hairston with 20 points each, reeled off their 17th consecutive victory Sunday night, trouncing the Portland Trailblazers 123-107.

They now are only three short of the league record of 20 victories in a row, set last season by the Milwaukee Bucks.

Elsewhere in the NBA Sunday, Phoenix stretched its winning streak to seven, routing Golden State 120-87, and Seattle defeated Cleveland 89-91.

The Lakers, in handing Portland its 21st setback in 25 games, took an early 19-10 lead on the shooting of West and Gail Goodrich, who finished with 19 points, and never relinquished it. Wilt Chamberlain contributed 27 points and 17 rebounds for Los Angeles.

Gary Gregor topped Portland with 20 points.

Phoenix overpowered Golden State by outscoring the Warriors 66-32 in the second half. Connie Hawkins paced the Suns' balanced attack with 21 points, one more than Neal Walk.

The Warrior's Cazzie Russell took game scoring honors with 34 points.

Seattle dissipated a 16-point lead and fell behind Cleveland 84-81 with 5½ minutes remaining, before storming back to overtake the Cavaliers. Two field goals by Don Kojis, one by Dick Snyder and a pair of free throws by Don Smith in the next two minutes put the Super-Sonics ahead 89-84.

Player-coach Len Wilkens led Seattle with 27 points, including six of his team's last eight points. Butch Beard topped the Cavaliers with 22 points, his pro high.

In the NBA Saturday night, it was Milwaukee 108, Chicago 105; Boston 117, Houston 107; New York 130, Buffalo 90; Atlanta 126, Philadelphia 109; Seattle 100, Cincinnati 98, and Phoenix 128, Golden State 92.

Simpson Pours In 29 Points

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Players from the rival American and National Basketball Associations don't often get together, but a summer merger between Ralph Simpson of the Denver Rockets of the ABA and three NBA stars has helped the second-year pro emerge as a prolific scorer in the young league.

Simpson, signed by Denver last year as a hardship case after his sophomore season at Michigan State, was unhappy after the 1970-71 ABA campaign because of the little playing time he was getting.

"I was playing a while," Simpson explained, "and then we changed coaches and the new coach wanted more experience so he went with Larry Brown and Larry Cannon."

"I was determined to come back and play," he added. "I played all summer against pros—Dave Bing, Jimmy Walker and Bob Lanier of the Detroit Pistons. By just playing I gained confidence and experience."

The confidence and experience are paying off this season. Simpson, a 6-foot-5 guard, is playing about 40 minutes a game and averaging about 31 points a game—third best in the ABA.

Sunday night, he scored 29 points, leading the Rockets to a 118-114 victory over the Pittsburgh Condors.

Memphis rallied for a 117-113 triumph over Virginia in the other ABA contest.

Simpson put Denver ahead to stay, breaking a 92-92 deadlock on a jump shot with 4:12 remaining.

George Thompson topped Pittsburgh with 28 points, one more than George Carter. The Condors' leading scorer, John Brisker, was ejected in the first quarter after punching Denver's Art Becker in the nose.

Rookie Johnny Neumann paced Memphis' comeback. Neumann, who like Simpson was signed as a hardship case after his sophomore collegiate season, entered the lineup with the Pros trailing 104-96.

He then hit a three-point field goal, two short jump shots, two free throws and stole the ball to make a layup, bringing the Pros to within one point with 3:42 left. Then, Wendell Ladner's field goal put Memphis ahead for good.

Ladner paced the Pros with 27 points, while Neumann scored 22. Charlie Scott was high for Virginia with 38 points, and rookie Julius Erving collected 36 points.

In the ABA Saturday night, it was Kentucky 109, Denver 106; Virginia 126, New York 124, and Indiana 115, Carolina 108.

Five Starters Back

K-State May Be Surprise

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas State Wildcats could be the basketball surprise of the Big Eight Conference.

Coach Jack Hartman, starting his second year as boss of the Wildcats, has all five starters of a year ago back for this season's wars, including Steve Mitchell and David Hall.

In addition, there's Danny Beard, a 6-foot-3 sophomore, who is expected to be one of the Wildcats' mainstays.

Besides Mitchell and Hall, starters of last year were Bob Zender, Jack Thomas and Lindbergh White. Ernie Kusnyer also has started on occasions. Mitchell is 6-10 and Hall and Zender each 6-7.

Hartman is optimistic enough that he has admitted Kansas State will be in the thick of the Big Eight race.

"This club will be able to do more things this season than last when we had an 11-15 record," Hartman says. "Our offense will be strengthened with improved guard play and depth. Probably our biggest improvement will be in speed and quickness, and our experience should be a plus."

"We could be much better. Our kids are feeling optimistic this year and so I am going to throw our name in with Missouri and Oklahoma as teams which could win the conference championship."

At present, the starting Wildcat line-up shapes up with rookies Beard and Lonnie Kruger at the guards, Hall at center and Zender and Kusnyer at the forwards.

Mitchell was Kansas State's No. 1 point producer last season with 371 points or a 14.3

point game average followed by Kusnyer with a 12.7-point average and Hall with 11.5. Hall was the leading rebounder with 284, and Mitchell and Kusnyer each had 211.

So far, the Wildcats have won one and lost one. Sophomore Larry Williams, 6-9, set Kansas State's scoring pace with 17 points in a 78-72 loss to Brigham Young, the defending Western Athletic Conference champion and ranked No. 19 nationally.

Beard sparked with 27 points in an 80-75 triumph over University of the Pacific. Kusnyer, who had 11 points in the BYU game, added 18. Both games were played in the BYU Time Zone Tournament in which Kansas State finished third.

Zender is performing very well," Hartman says. "Kruger has real play-making potential and leadership qualities. Sophomores and juniors are going to play a very important role in our club. I have a lot of faith in them but they may, on occasion, yield under pressure."

Egyptian Concessions Are Revealed By Sadat

NEW YORK (AP) — Egyptian President Anwar Sadat says he has twice promised to send home all Soviet missile crews in Egypt and to restore full diplomatic relations with the United States as soon as Israel carried out the first phase of a withdrawal from the Sinai Peninsula.

Sadat charges that the Nixon administration misled him into thinking that the United States could in turn wrest major negotiating concessions from Israel. None materialized, Sadat notes in an interview in the current Newsweek magazine, adding, "We are now back to square one."

In the interview with Newsweek senior editor Arnold de Borchgrave, Sadat says he first made the promise to send Soviet missile crews home in talks with Secretary of State William P. Rogers in Cairo last May.

The pledge was reaffirmed during a July meeting with Michael Stern, the head of the State Department's Egyptian Affairs Desk, Sadat says, and quotes Stern as having told him that President Nixon had decided the United States would "now take an active role and cease to play the part of mailman between the two sides."

"Then we had a 70-day black-out from America," Sadat continues. "Absolutely nothing from anyone."

Meanwhile, in separate television interviews Sunday, Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir and Egypt's foreign minister, Mahmoud Riad, disagreed sharply on conditions under which the stalled peace efforts could get under way.

Riad insisted that Israel must agree in advance to withdraw from all the Egyptian territory she occupied in 1967 before starting talks.

"We do not commit ourselves to anything without negotiations. We have one pre-condition. No conditions," Mrs. Meir said.

On another point, Riad denied that Egypt had threatened to renew hostilities after Dec. 31 if there was no solution. Sadat had said recently that 1971 would be a "year of decision."

Mrs. Meir was questioned on the NBC TV-radio program "Meet the Press," while Riad was interviewed on CBS's "Face the Nation."

Patrolman Offers Help To the Down-and-Outers

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Harry L. Jones is the kind of guy who'd give a stranger his last dollar. And does, frequently.

He's a policeman who, for the last 17 years on duty, has seen life at its worst. But he's not discouraged. He says he thinks people just need a little help.

Last week, for instance, Jones answered a routine report of family trouble. He said he found a woman and five ragged children—three girls and two boys, ages 10 years to 19 months—huddled in an attempt to keep warm in a freezing mist.

Inside the house, he said, was the children's father, drunk.

Earlier that day the woman had taken four of her husband's last $11 and sent one of her children to the store for groceries.

When the child returned, Jones said she told him, the man snatched the food away, stomped it to bits.

"I kicked the door open," Jones said. "Those folks were living there with just wall-to-wall floor—I mean no furniture at all, no food."

Jones said he radioed headquarters he was going to the grocery store, then spent the only money he had—$6—on food for the family.

"None of that comes as a surprise to me," said Mrs. Jones, who has been married to the big-hearted Birmingham native for 18 of his 43 years.

"I recall one occasion he called home one night and asked if we had any money in the bank. I told him we had a little bit. He said he had found a young woman who had no place to go, so he paid her room rent at the YMCA for a week with a $30 check.

"I had to go out and borrow the money the next day to cover the check," she said.

Recalling his experience last week, Jones says, "I was really touched by that family. I'm going to work with the man... trying to help him get rehabilitated. I've talked to him about Alcoholics Anonymous and he seems acceptable to it."

"The Fraternal Order of Police is going to see that the kids have a Christmas this year."

"You should have seen the eyes of those kids when we mentioned Santa Claus to them... they lit up like diamonds."

The Joneses have two daughters, Teri, 17, and Carol, 13. When they outgrow their clothes, their father always finds someone who needs them.

Questions and Answers On Economic Guidelines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here, in question-and-answer form, are explanations of Price Commission and Cost of Living Council economic regulations as issued by the Economic Stabilization Program of the Internal Revenue Service:

Q: May a firm with a loss in its base period raise its prices to create a projected profit?

A: The general rules of the Price Commission make no provision for a firm in a loss position during the base period, but the Price Commission will consider any such situation and determine whether it justifies special relief. In addition, more specific guidelines will soon be issued.

Q: Do the economic controls apply to college tuition charges?

A: Yes, tuition, as well as room and board, is covered.

Q: Must a company which is a prenotifying firm also submit quarterly reports to the Price Commission?

A: Yes.

Q: May individual health-insurance premiums be raised if based on a formula in a contract in effect prior to the imposition of economic controls where the formula reflects only changed conditions of risk (e.g. number of claims)?

A: Yes, premium increases based on a formula in a pre-existing contract which reflects only changed conditions of risk may be applied normally.

Q: If a corporate parent and its subsidiaries are located in different IRS districts, where should requests for rulings or information be filed?

A: All inquiries, ruling requests, etc. should go to the IRS district director in the district where the parent corporation is located.

Q: Service charges such as utility, parking meter and bridge tolls were subject to Phase 1 while licenses and fines such as vehicle licenses and parking tickets were exempt. Does the same situation apply to Phase 2?

A: Yes. Unless specifically altered by regulation or published rulings, policy rulings issued by the Cost of Living Council and interpretations issued by the Office of Emergency Preparedness continue to be applicable after Nov. 13, 1971.

Formation Announced Of Correction Center

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell announced today the establishment of a National Corrections Academy to serve as a center for correctional research and the training of federal, state and local personnel.

In a keynote speech prepared for the opening of the first National Conference on Corrections, Mitchell disclosed a new federal program of aid to help modernize the nation's penal system, recently wracked by numerous inmate revolts.

Mitchell said the Federal Bureau of Prisons and the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration will work with state and local authorities to establish the new corrections academy, which will offer training for correction personnel at all employment levels.

"I believe it will be the most effective single means of upgrading the profession and assuring that correction is more than a euphemism for detention," he said.

Mitchell also announced two other federal projects to assist state and local corrections work:

—Establishment of a national clearing house for criminal justice architecture. To be situated at the University of Illinois, it will be funded by the Law Enforcement Assistance

Administration and will provide technical assistance in improving existing facilities and designing new buildings.

—Establishment of a clearing house for correctional education to provide assistance for planning and implementing education programs for prison inmates.

About 350 state, local and federal corrections specialists from throughout the nation are attending the conference, which was summoned at President Nixon's direction.

Mitchell also said he is directing the Justice Department to study the feasibility of deferring prosecution in certain criminal cases in favor of a "community oriented correctional program."

Mitchell coupled his announcement of federal programs with a plea to state and local agencies to join the federal government in hiring more minority personnel in corrections work.

He said the 28 institutions in the federal prison system have been directed to seek one third minority employment in all new hiring.

REGARDLESS OF YOUR AGE OR THE SIZE OF YOUR FAMILY, YOU CAN ENROLL FOR ONLY $1.00

Then, after the first month, continue this "extra cash" coverage at Physicians' low rates.

During this Limited Enrollment Period, you can enroll yourself and all eligible members of your family simply by mailing the Enrollment Form below with $1. There's nothing else to do — but you must mail your Enrollment no later than Midnight, December 11, 1971.

Think of it. Now, with a stroke of your pen, you can have tax-free, expense-free extra cash paid direct to you when a sudden accident or unexpected illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family! And you may enroll during this Limited Enrollment Period without having to see a company representative and without any red tape whatsoever. All you need do is mail the Enrollment Form below together with just $1 before the expiration date. It's that easy!

Why You Need Extra Cash In Addition To Ordinary Hospital Insurance

Anyone who has been in the hospital recently knows ordinary hospital insurance—even Medicare—simply will not cover everything. You have to pay many "extras" out of your own pocket—and it can add up to hundreds of dollars in a frighteningly short time.

But even if your ordinary hospital insurance covers most of your medical and hospital bills, what about the bills that keep piling up at home?

If you, as husband, father and breadwinner are suddenly hospitalized, your income stops, your expenses go up. Even if you have some kind of "salary insurance" it probably won't come close to replacing your full-time pay.

If your wife is suddenly hospitalized, who will look after the family, do the laundry, the marketing, the cleaning? You may have to take time off from your job—or hire full-time domestic help—to take care of things at home.

If one of your children is suddenly hospitalized, you will certainly spare no expense. You wouldn't even think of the cost.

If you're over 65 and are suddenly hospitalized, Medicare, fine as it is, won't pay all of your hospital expenses or any household expenses. Most senior citizens won't want to use savings they have taken a lifetime to accumulate... they may want to retain their independence and not become a "burden" to their children or community.

Without "extra cash" protection, a hospital emergency may leave you with savings gone, debts you can't pay, peace of mind shattered—even your recovery can be seriously delayed by money worries!

How The Plan Protects You And Your Family

Now, with the unique "extra cash" protection of The Doctors Hospital Plan you can avoid these worries because you can be assured of extra cash income when you or any covered member of your family goes to the hospital. No matter how large your family, no matter what your age or occupation and without any qualifications whatsoever, you can choose any of the four low-cost plans shown at right to meet your family's special needs.

In addition to the "extra cash" hospital benefits, you get all these valuable "extra" features:

Your "Health-Bank Account" Grows Each Month

Here's a wonderful benefit, no matter which plan you choose—almost like having an extra "Bank Account." When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account."

Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum! When you have claims, your benefits are subtracted from your "account." It's much like putting money in and taking it out of a bank account.

Enjoy Life-Long Security

For as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums, we will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—and we guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal or modify all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid.

You May Actually Come Out "Money Ahead"

Because The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any other company's health insurance you carry—individual, group or even Medicare—and because all your extra cash benefits are tax-free, you may leave the hospital many dollars ahead... money you don't have to account for to anyone. Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

Enroll For Only $1

Regardless of your age, the size of your family, or the plan you select, you get your first month for only $1.00. If you choose the All-Family Plan—all your eligible children (including future additions) are included at no extra cost. (See box at right for low rates.)

Extra Cash Protection At Surprisingly Low Cost

How can a hospital plan offer so much for so little? The answer is simple: We have lower total sales costs. The Doctors Hospital Plan is a mass enrollment plan. All business is conducted between you and the company by mail. No salesmen will call. It all adds up to real savings we share with you by giving you high quality protection at low cost.

Offered By Physicians Mutual "The Doctors Company"

Your policy is backed by the resources, integrity and reputation of the Physicians Mutual Insurance Company, "the doctors company," specializing in health and accident protection for physicians, surgeons and dentists for more than 68 years. Dunne's Insurance Reports, one of the leading insurance industry authorities in the nation, gives Physicians Mutual its highest policyholders' rating of "A Plus (Excellent)." Serving hundreds of thousands of policyholders throughout the United States direct by mail, Physicians Mutual has its headquarters in Omaha,

CHOOSE THE PLAN THAT SUITS YOU BEST

INDIVIDUAL PLAN $5,000 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized.

If you are living by yourself, or if you wish to cover only yourself or one family member, choose the Individual Plan.

You pay only $3.95 monthly and you get your first month for only $1.00!

HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized. $321.30 monthly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized.

If you have no children, or if your children are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the Husband-Wife Plan.

You pay only $6.45 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

ALL-FAMILY PLAN $10,000 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized. $321.30 monthly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized. $214.20 monthly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the All-Family Plan. All your children (including future additions) between 3 months of age and under 21 are included at no extra cost as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

You pay only $7.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized. $214.20 monthly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the One-Parent Family Plan. This plan has been tailored to help meet your particular needs. It covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21.

You pay only $5.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

On all plans, your "extra cash" benefits are paid from the very first day you enter the hospital, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, right up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you select.

Naturally The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover any new accident or sickness. New accidents are covered immediately. After your policy is 30 days old, you are covered for new sicknesses which begin thereafter. There are only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof

(unless you have the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, each of which covers maternity after the policy is in force for 10 months), war, military service, mental disorder, alcoholism or drug addiction, or conditions covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

You are free to go to any lawfully operated hospital of your own choice, with these exceptions only: nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or Federal hospitals.*

*Not applicable in Missouri

SPECIAL EXTRA BENEFITS!

Whichever plan you choose, you get:

50% INCREASE IN YOUR CASH BENEFITS... if you or any member of your family is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).

If you choose the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, you get in addition:

DOUBLE CASH BENEFITS if both you and your wife are injured and hospitalized at the same time: You get twice the amount—$1,499.40 A MONTH!

Important: Here is another real "plus"—if you have been told that anyone in your family is "uninsurable"! Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past—ailments that come back again and again, or are likely to recur—you will be covered for these pre-existing conditions after your policy has been in force for one year!

IF YOU ARE OVER 65

Even though Medicare will pay most of your hospital expenses it will not cover all of your needs. During this limited enrollment, you can get the extra cash protection needed during the high-risk senior years without any qualifications just by using the form below!

It's a fact that people over 65 go to hospitals more often and have larger hospital bills. That's exactly why they need extra cash protection! And that's why some hospital plans won't accept them or charge rates beyond their means. But The Doctors Hospital Plan not only accepts you regardless of age, it gives you easy-to-carry protection that is within your means. If you are over 65 now, or when you become 65, the following modest monthly additional rate applies:

Female on All-Family or Husband-Wife Plan $2.50
Female on One-Parent Family or Individual Plan 3.50
Male on any Plan 3.50

son whatsoever you change your mind you may return your policy within 10 days and we will promptly refund your dollar.

IMPORTANT: We can only accept your enrollment if it is postmarked on or before the date shown below. But please don't wait until the last moment. The sooner we receive your form, the sooner The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover you. You risk nothing by acting promptly. You may lose hundreds of dollars in "extra cash" benefits through needless delays. Mail your enrollment form today!

19 Important Questions Answered

ABOUT THE NEW DOCTORS HOSPITAL PLAN

1. What is The Doctors Hospital Plan?

The Doctors Hospital Plan is a brand-new, low-cost health protection plan—that pays extra cash direct to you when a covered accident or illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family.

2. Why do I need The Doctors Hospital Plan in addition to my regular insurance?

Probably your present hospital insurance won't cover all your hospital expenses, but even if it does, you will still need help to cover all your household expenses when you are hospitalized.

3. Can I collect even if I carry other health insurance?

Yes, The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any health insurance you carry, whether individual or group—even in addition to Medicare! And all your benefits are tax-free! Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

4. Is there a lot of red tape to qualify?

None at all. Your only qualification is to complete and mail your Enrollment Form by the deadline date shown.

5. Which plan should I choose?

You may choose any of four low-cost plans—you can actually select the exact plan that suits you best! If you live by yourself, or wish to cover only one family member, choose the INDIVIDUAL PLAN. If you have no children as yet, or if you have children who are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN.

If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the ALL-FAMILY PLAN. You and your wife are covered at once for accidents, for new sicknesses after 30 days, and for maternity benefits after 10 months. All your children (and future additions) between 3 months and under 21 are included, at no extra cost, as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN. This covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21.

6. If I become hospitalized, when do my benefits begin?

On all plans, your cash benefits are paid from the very first day of covered hospital confinement, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you choose.

7. How much can I be paid?

Each plan has its own "Aggregate of Benefits," what we call the maximum. For example, under the INDIVIDUAL PLAN, the maximum is $5,000—$428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized.

Under the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized; $321.30 monthly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized.

Under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $10,000—$428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized; $321.30 monthly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized; $214.20 monthly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

Under the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized; $214.20 monthly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

8. Are any additional benefits included in The Doctors Hospital Plan?

Yes. You receive a 50% increase in cash benefits if you or any covered family member is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).

9. What are the "double" cash benefits?

If you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized at the same time and are covered by the ALL-FAMILY or HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, you get double cash benefits. You get twice the amount—$1,499.40 A MONTH!

10. Does this plan pay in any hospital?

You will be covered in any lawfully operated hospital except nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or Federal hospitals.*

11. When does my policy go into force?

It becomes effective the very same day we receive your Enrollment Form. New accidents are covered on that date. After your policy is 30 days old, new sicknesses which begin thereafter are covered. Under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN and the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, childbirth or pregnancy or any consequence thereof is covered after your policy is in force for 10 months.

12. What if someone in my family has had a health problem that may occur again?

Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past, pre-existing conditions are covered after the policy has been in force for one year.

13. What conditions aren't covered?

Only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the ALL-FAMILY PLAN).

* Not applicable in Missouri

Nebraska, and is licensed and incorporated in that state. Its Board of Directors is composed entirely of respected members of the medical and insurance professions.

Easy to Enroll! No Salesman Will Call!

During this limited enrollment period there are no other qualifications other than to complete and mail the Enrollment Form below. We will issue your Doctors Hospital Policy (Form P322 Series) immediately—the same day we receive your form. This

14. Can I drop out any time? Can you drop me?

We will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—for as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums. We guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy or change your rates unless we do so on all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid. You, of course, can drop your policy on any renewal date.

15. Why is The Doctors Hospital Plan almost like having an extra "bank account"?

When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500 or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account." Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum. When you have claims, benefits are subtracted from your "account!"

16. How do I claim my cash benefits?

With your policy, you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form, which you send directly to the company when you want to claim your cash benefits.

17. Why are the premiums so low?

With the Doctors Hospital Plan, you actually get all these benefits—at such a low cost—because this is a mass enrollment plan—and no salesman will call. Our volume is higher and our total sales costs are lower.

18. How much does my first month cost?

Only $1.00, regardless of your age, the size of your family or the plan you select. After the first month, if you are under 65, you pay: only $3.95 a month for the INDIVIDUAL PLAN; only $6.45 a month for the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN; only $7.95 a month for the ALL-FAMILY PLAN; only $5.95 a month for the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN. (When you are over 65, premiums increase. See modest increase in box above.)

19. Why should I enroll right now?

Because an unexpected sickness or accident could strike without warning—and you will not be covered until your policy is in force. Remember, if for any reason you change your mind, you may return your policy within 10 days and your $1.00 will be refunded immediately.
